ELECTION OF LANDON URGED BY AL SMITH

Says G.O.P. Candidate
Can Be Relied Upon
To Keep Promises

New York, Oct. 1.—(P)—Alfred E. Smith closed his address in Carnegie Hall tonight with an appeal for the election of Alf M. Landon of Kansas as president of the United States.

Speaking before the anti-Roosevelt national coalition of American women in Carnegie Hall, Smith said "I firmly believe the remedy for our ills is the election of Governor Alf M. Landon."

Landon, Smith said, could be "relied upon to preserve the fundamental principles of America," and to "keep his promises."

As Smith shouted out Landon's name a great burst of noise, drowned out the conclusion of his sentence. There was a disturbance in the audience, and an unidentified man was pushed out by the police.

"I am an American before I am a Democrat, a Republican, or anything else," Smith had said before he urged Governor Landon's election.

"How," Smith cried out, "can I be asked to defend a failure?"

He struck out sharply against members of the Roosevelt administration, saying they were not Democrats, and disclaimed any feeling of pique in his feeling toward President Roosevelt.

The president's administration, he said, had loosed a "smear" squad in the Democratic national committee to attack as "economic royalists, Tories and reactionaries" those who did not subscribe "100 per cent to the New Deal."

At times the former New York governor, himself Democratic presidential candidate in 1928, showed obvious emotion at the reception of the crowd. At one point when he attacked Mr. Roosevelt for asserted failure to make use of the best available advice, a storm of hisses and boos rose from the audience. A heckler attempted to interpose a question which was lost in the din and Smith sharply silenced him.

Smith, the "happy warrior" of the 1928 campaign, said it had been argued that he was against Mr. Roosevelt because he was not appointed to a place in the cabinet.

"That's silly," said the former governor. "There is one thing I could have done—given advice, but I was never asked."

Here is what Smith barked out as he wound up his speech and set off a great ovation:

"I have never in my long public career ducked, dodged, or pussy-footed."

"I have never found fault with anything unless I was prepared to suggest a remedy, and while I may differ on matters of traditional party policy I regard these things in the crisis of today as merely my own. I am satisfied as to the basic and fundamental needs of this country. Sound and trustworthy, (Landon) can be relied upon to cherish, preserve the fundamental principles of America."

"I firmly believe that the remedy for all the ills that we are suffering from today is the election of Alfred M. Landon."

TAKE OVER LINES

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—The Quincy City Lines was granted permission by the Illinois Commerce Commission today to take over the transportation facilities of Quincy from the Illinois Power and Light Company.

The new concern will charge a straight five-cent fare, with an additional cent for transfers and a ten cent fare for school children.

The old rates were 10 cents, three cents for twenty-five cents, and a rate of forty cents for $1 to children under 16 years old.

Gov. Alf M. Landon Welcomes Support Of Alfred Smith

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 1.—(P)—Gov. Alf M. Landon said tonight he welcomed the support of Alfred E. Smith and was "happy to fight shoulder to shoulder" with such leaders for the preservation of American principles.

The Republican candidate, when asked for comment on Smith's appeal for his election as president, said:

"I deeply appreciate the support of Alfred E. Smith, a great Democrat and a great American. He has placed country above partisanship. The issues of this campaign are so fundamental they transcend party lines."

"This election will decide the form of government we shall pass on to future generations. I am happy to fight shoulder to shoulder with such leaders as Alfred E. Smith in this contest for the preservation of American principles."

Frank V. Zintak Pays $25,639 To Cover Shortages

State's Attorney, However,
Says Ousted Clerk Will Be Prosecuted

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—Payment of $25,639 today by Frank V. Zintak, ousted superior court clerk, to cover shortages charged against him will affect plans for his prosecution.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney said tonight:

"Restitution," Courtney declared, "in no way interferes with the prosecution. The case will positively go to trial."

Payment of the $25,639, the amount named in grand jury indictments charging Zintak with embezzlement, was paid to Judge James J. Kelly, chairman of the superior court executive committee, and announced by Zintak's attorney Stephen Love.

Love said $22,639.35 of the amount had been paid by a cashier's check, and the remainder in government bonds.

Coincidental with Love's announcement was one from Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley's office at the criminal court, that four new grand jury indictments had been returned against Zintak.

Three of them charged the same offense as the original indictment, but listed specific transactions. The fourth charged embezzlement of $3,000 in treasury bonds.

The court ordered additional bonds of $40,000. Zintak was notified to appear for arraignment tomorrow morning.

Zintak was arraigned on the first indictment earlier in the week. He pleaded innocent and his trial was set for Nov. 2.

Indict Four Men On Arson Charge

Marion, Ill., Oct. 1.—(P)—Clyde Mann, a Williamson county deputy sheriff and three other men faced charges today growing out of the burning of a roadhouse owned by A. E. Hartwell, near Johnston city last February.

Sheriff Zollie Carter disclosed that indictments were returned against Mann as well as Charles Farris, Elmo Farris and Jesse Williams.

Charles and Elmo Farris, it was disclosed, operated a rival tavern near the one burned.

Mann declared himself innocent and branded the charge as "a frame up" by his enemies.

Sheriff Carter said he was confident Mann would be able to prove his innocence.

Doughnut Industry Is "Out of Hole"

New York, Oct. 1.—(P)—The doughnut industry is "definitely out of the hole," the National Doughnut Association was assured at its annual convention today.

F. E. Nounnan, secretary of the National Doughnut month committee, told representatives of 200 bakery organizations that 30 doughnut plants had been opened in this country last year as compared with 25 in 1935.

The previous peak year, he explained, October was chosen for doughnut month because it has two "O's."

"What R's have done for oysters," he said, "O's should do for doughnuts."

WILL AID BENSON

Madison, Wis., Oct. 1.—(P)—Governor Philip F. La Follette and his brother, U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., leaders of the Wisconsin Progressive party, announced today they will campaign in Minnesota on behalf of Senator Elmer A. Benson and the Minnesota Farmer-Labor ticket.

Governor La Follette will deliver a radio address at St. Paul and speak to a mass meeting Tuesday night at the St. Paul auditorium. Senator La Follette will give a radio address and will speak before a public meeting at New Ulm October 17.

PRIEST DIES

Litchfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—(P)—The Rev. Joseph V. Varnhagen, 83, who had been an active Catholic priest for 63 years, died this afternoon at St. Francis hospital. He had served 34 years at St. Marie, Ill. Two years ago he was transferred to the chapel of the hospital there.

ADMINISTRATION IS ASSAILED BY COL. FRANK KNOX

Says 'DR's Fiscal Policies "Dance Of Death"

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—(P)—A few minutes before President Roosevelt spoke six blocks away, Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, assailed the administration's fiscal policies tonight as a "Financial Dance of Death."

Knox spoke in Duquesne Garden before a Republican rally.

His address went on a National (NBC) radio network from 8:30 p. m. until 9 o'clock, with the President following immediately on the same group of stations.

The President made his address in the Pittsburgh baseball park, Forbes Field.

Col. Knox turned his fire on an earlier address President Roosevelt delivered in Pittsburgh on October 19, 1932, in the thick of the Roosevelt-Hoover campaign.

Recalling the President decried the danger of government deficits in that speech, Knox declared:

"If I find any better words than 'appalling' and 'staggering' and 'breath-catching,' I'll use them."

A crowd packed the hall, which seats 8,000, for the candidate's appearance.

As he strode down the aisle at 8:20 the crowd waved hundreds of American flags and gave him a shrill cheer of welcome.

Knox walked to the indoor meeting at the head of a parade while the floodlights of Forbes Field made a glow to the west. An escort of war veterans formed a guard of honor.

Tense in the Pittsburgh political competition, the Knox audience roared its approval as he used the President's 1932 campaign speech for ammunition.

Talking in short sentences, Knox used the Pittsburgh appearance to re-open his charges that financial practices of the administration endanger the value of life insurance and savings accounts.

"I do not believe the administration is trying to run deficits," he said. "It just does not know how to stop. But the people know how to stop."

In the crowd on the platform behind the speaker were former United States Senator David Reed, Henry P. Fletcher, former chairman of the Republican national committee, and E. T. Weir, Pennsylvania steel master.

In repeating his previous assertions that under the New Deal insurance policies and savings accounts were unsafe, Knox declared:

"This is not a matter of the future. It is here now," said Col. Knox in an address prepared for delivery immediately before President Roosevelt's campaign speech on another local platform.

"The value of the savings dollars and the life insurance dollars has been cut nearly 20 per cent since the present administration took office," Knox said. "In addition, the interest rate on savings accounts in those diluted dollars has been reduced x x x and dividends on life insurance policies have been drastically cut."

Madrid's Fall Alfonso's Signal?

Whether exiled King Alfonso, left, will walk into the royal palace, center, which he once occupied in Madrid, when and if President Manuel Azana, right, walks out of the government picture in Spain, is a question puzzling Europe's diplomats. Even before the fall of Madrid became imminent, it was known that the ex-monarch was planning to return to Spain if the rebels were victorious. Azana was offered escape on an Argentine cruiser as rebels forced their way toward the capital.

Communist Is Released From Indiana Jail

Earl Browder's Attorney May File Charges Against
Mayor

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 1.—(P)—While Earl Browder, Communist candidate for president who spent 26 hours in jail here with four associates on vagrancy charges, hurried toward New York tonight, his attorney, David J. Bental, of Chicago, prepared charges of false arrest and false imprisonment against Mayor Sam Beecher and Police Chief James C. Yates.

Bental said he would file the charges "within a few hours."

Yates appeared unconcerned over Bental's intentions, saying "The Communists know we mean business about staying out of town."

The mayor said, "I denounce Communism, and I will do everything in my power to prevent Communist speeches and demonstrations in Terre Haute." Otis Cook, city attorney, said "We will have plenty of help in fighting Bental's charges."

As Browder left for New York with Waldo Frank, the novelist, and Seymour Waldman, party committee man, who also had been arrested, he said that "this (the arrests) is a black-eye that will take a long time to heal."

"Somebody's going to be sorry for this, and I'm going to tear up something before I'm through," was Frank's comment.

The trio and Charles Stadfield, Indiana state Communist chairman, and Andrew Rems of Indianapolis were released today when Prosecutor Ray Keatts said in city court, "This cause is dismissed, your honor."

Yates explained that he told the men to "get out of town and stay out."

Browder said he would return to testify against the mayor and the police chief.

"I want to see if I can find justice in these courts," he said. "My attorney has told me he tried all yesterday afternoon to get us out of jail through writs of habeas corpus, and that no judge would pay any attention to him. That kind of treatment breeds Fascism in this country. We never had a chance. The minute we got off the train we were arrested. We were not told why we were arrested. We were thrown into jail on the flimsiest of pretenses. We had done nothing to merit such treatment."

JUDGE DIES

Robinson, Ill., Oct. 1.—(P)—Duane Gaines, 77 years old, Crawford county judge from 1914 to 1918, was found dead in his office here today. Active in Democratic politics in the 23rd Congressional District, he had once been a member of the State Legislature from the Jasper district and had served a term as master in chancery of Crawford county.

WILL DEMAND DEATH

Oregon Ill., Oct. 1.—(P)—State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell of Ogletown said today he would demand the death penalty for Guy Tallmadge, Rockford embalmer, charged with murdering his wife on a lonely highway near here last spring.

Tallmadge was scheduled to go to trial Oct. 12 before Judge Harry Edwards.

ELECT OFFICERS

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—Bright J. Naugle of Sunbury, Pa., was re-elected president of the Beauty and Barber Supply Institute at the thirty-third annual convention of the institute here today.

Other officers elected included first vice president, Leon Jaeger, of Springfield, Ill.

Girl Bails Man Out of Jail; Is Given Diamond

Richard S. Saley and Ruth
Peterson to Wed
Oct. 15

Salt Lake City, Oct. 1.—(P)—Richard S. Saley, 22, presented to the girl who "bailed him out of jail" today a diamond ring of his own design.

He and the ring recipient, Miss Ruth Peterson, 22, completed their self-imposed week of "jail service" today and went troupeau shopping. They will be married October 15, they said.

It was to avoid delaying their wedding that City Judge A. M. Ellett consented to Miss Peterson's suggestion that she share her prospective husband's 15-day jail term for reckless driving, making it seven-and-a-half days for each.

So the young woman quit her job in a beauty shop and reported to police headquarters daily for eight hours of work as a typist in the identification bureau. Saley, a taxi-driver, did regular tasks around the station.

Saley, a former jeweler's apprentice, waited until his release today to spring his big surprise. Then he presented Ruth with the engagement ring he made himself.

"I've never seen another half as pretty," Miss Peterson cried.

Hold Suspect For Car Theft

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—Earl Brally, 23, arrested yesterday at the wheel of an automobile police said was stolen Tuesday at Rockford, Ill., was turned over to the state's attorney's office today for investigation.

Police said the automobile which Brally was driving was stolen at Rockford about the same time a driver for the Rockford Motor Service was held up and robbed of his truck. The latter vehicle, loaded with pianos and bathroom scales, was recovered by Chicago police. They said Brally is trailing it in the other car.

William Duvall, 42, a Negro, seized at the wheel of the truck, was released today after he convinced police he had been hired by Brally to drive the vehicle and that he was unaware it was stolen.

Brally also denied knowing the truck was stolen and named a third man, whom he said he knew as Joe Fisher. Police are seeking him.

Compensation Law Becomes Effective

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—Illinois employers were notified today that the state's new occupational disease compensation law had become effective.

Thus far 30,000 employers have accepted the provisions of the law and eventually 150,000 will make use of its advantages, Peter J. Angsten, chairman of the Illinois Industrial Commission, said.

Angsten said the act provided $4,000 to $5,700 compensation for death from an occupational disease and half pay for disability. A life pension will be paid if an occupational disease disability extends eight years or longer. Employers are not forced to accept the provisions, but become liable for occupational ailments starting after today.

RECEIVES BOOKLETS

Halifax, Oct. 1.—(P)—E. S. Dixon, former secretary of the Halifax tourist bureau, said he received today two attractive booklets urging him to "spend the winter in Spain."

BUDGET CAN BE BALANCED IN 2 YEARS FDR SAYS

Says Public Debt Has Increased Only 8
Billions

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt stood under brilliant floodlights in Forbes Field here tonight and told an audience of thousands that if national income continued to rise as it has been rising, the government's annual budget could be balanced "within a year or two" without additional taxes.

He dwelt at length on the national debt in the second major address in his campaign for reelection and assured his listeners in the jammed ball park of the Pittsburgh Pirates that the deficit was not going to be met by "oppressive taxes on future generations."

Back in 1933, the President said, national revenues were spiraling downward and the government had to care for a growing army of destitute and unemployed.

Leveling off at his republican opposition, he said he cast aside a "do-nothing or a wait-and-see policy" and "reversed the policy of the previous administration."

It cost money, he said, but the people knew in 1933 that it would. "I had promised," he said, "and my administration was determined, to keep the people of the United States from starvation."

In combatting the depression he said the administration had boosted the public debt eight billion dollars.

Some people, he added, "will tell you that the increase in the national debt is thirteen billions instead of eight."

Then, in a remark which was generally believed to have indirectly referred to Col. Frank Knox, republican vice-presidential candidate, he added that the thirteen billion computation is "technically and morally just as correct as telling you good people here in Pennsylvania that none of your bank deposits or insurance policies were sound."

A half-mile away, Knox had just concluded another assault on the new deal.

It was Knox who in Allentown, Pa., September 5, declared no insurance policy was secure nor bank deposits safe under new deal monetary policies.

The President was greeted by thousands along the three-mile route from the depot to the baseball park. In downtown Pittsburgh the crowds were packed almost to the middle of the streets and motorcycle police had difficulty moving them back.

Man Who Killed Daughter Given Long Sentence

John Pavelka Had Pled
For Death in Electric Chair

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—John Pavelka, who pleaded for death in the electric chair, was convicted today on a charge of murdering his daughter, Catherine, 15, and sentenced to 99 years in prison by Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the criminal court.

Entering a technical plea of innocence, the 43-year-old window-letterer seated himself on the witness stand and calmly described how he struck the girl over the head with a monkey wrench and then strangled her Sept. 19.

"People had been persuading her to do things she shouldn't do," Pavelka testified. "I was very fond of her and tired of living this poor existence. Instead of leaving her to be kicked around in the world like a football, I decided to take her life first and then kill myself."

Pavelka said his attempts at suicide failed, so he gave himself up. When he walked into a police station the day of the slaying, he shouted: "I'm guilty—give me the electric chair."

Driver's Skull Is Fractured By Board

Arthur Miller Badly Hurt
While Hauling Brick At Old Academy Hall

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—Illinois employees were notified today that the state's new occupational disease compensation law had become effective.

Thus far 30,000 employers have accepted the provisions of the law and eventually 150,000 will make use of its advantages, Peter J. Angsten, chairman of the Illinois Industrial Commission, said.

A life pension will be paid if an occupational disease disability extends eight years or longer. Employers are not forced to accept the provisions, but become liable for occupational ailments starting after today.

Miller, who was engaged in hauling brick in a truck did not lose consciousness when a board fell from the upper part of the building and struck his head. He insisted that he was not badly hurt, but examination revealed that a fracture resulted. Dr. Carl E. Black is the attending physician.

HAIRGROVES HERE

Oregon and Mrs. J. W. Hairgrave of Oregon arrived in Jacksonville last night enroute to the south for a visit. They are staying at the New Dunlap hotel for two or three days and will be pleased to welcome friends there.

What They Said

By the Associated Press.

President Roosevelt: "In three years our net national debt has increased $8,000,000,000. Don't you believe that the saving of America has been cheap at that price? This debt is not going to be paid by oppressive taxation on future generations. It is going to be paid out of an increased national income and increased individual income produced by increasing national prosperity."

Col. Frank Knox: "The value of the savings dollars and the life insurance dollars has been cut nearly 20 per cent since the present administration took office. The interest rate on bond investments has been driven to such low levels that the return to banks and insurance companies is not enough to permit them to give savers and policyholders what they get before. The financial dance of death goes on."

Alfred E. Smith: "Unless you are ready to subscribe to the New Deal 100 per cent, you are (called) a Tory. That is a rather serious situation. It tends to breed class hatred. If the president had made good on his promises I wouldn't be on this platform. The American business man is getting kicked all over the lot. The remedy for our ills is the election of Governor Alf M. Landon."

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt stood under brilliant floodlights in Forbes Field here tonight and told an audience of thousands that if national income continued to rise as it has been rising, the government's annual budget could be balanced "within a year or two" without additional taxes.

The Schools Need Help

Jacksonville's public school system is facing an emergency. The schools need help! The time has come for residents of this city to again assert good citizenship by helping the schools over an obstacle that is the fault of no one man or group, but of a series of events during the last few years that have served to reduce the educational fund. It is up to the citizens who wish to preserve the good standing of Jacksonville schools, and provide adequate educational facilities for several thousand boys and girls, to support the school tax increase when it is submitted to a vote Saturday, Oct. 17.

This column has frequently pointed out the value of the schools to the community. Jacksonville is an educational center, with wide reputation. To permit the public school system to deteriorate because of lack of funds would be calamity. It would be entirely out of line with this city's attitude toward its schools and young people in the past.

One grade school teacher who was receiving $700 per year resigned her position here to accept work in another Illinois city at a salary of $1,200. Another member of the high school faculty left an $800 job in Jacksonville to take a $1,600 position in another city, no larger than this. These were good teachers, and by no means the only members of the local school faculties who have seen fit to take more remunerative work elsewhere. The fact is, Jacksonville public schools face a loss of many teachers if salary levels are not restored. The system includes many loyal men and women who have hoped that conditions would be improved, but many could not be expected to continue on the present basis.

Jacksonville's public school crisis was precipitated by reduced assessments in property valuations, a bank failure and general effects of depression. Although now operating on a balanced budget, the district is unable to restore salary cuts to teachers unless the voters approve a levy increasing the school tax 35 cents on the $100 valuation. Citizens should make inquiry of board of education members and school officials to fully acquaint themselves of the situation. The majority of them will, as a result of consideration of the facts, go to the polls and help Jacksonville schools meet a condition that threatens their welfare.

Parents of children now in both grade and high schools should become actively interested in the approaching election. Why should children this year and the next few years suffer a let-down in standards of education, when a few thousand dollars divided up among everyone will solve the situation? It is not like Jacksonville to regard this question lightly.

If the voters authorize the board of education to meet the emergency by an increased levy of 35 cents on the $100 valuation in the educational fund, the total levy in both educational and building funds made this year will not exceed 65 cents in the building fund and $1.35 in the educational fund, making a total of $2 in both funds. This will be only 15 cents more than the $1.85 paid this year. On a $2,000 piece of property, the increase in taxes would amount to $3; on a $5,000 property the increase would be $7.50. But this comparatively small sacrifice will guarantee the efficiency of the public schools.

Talk it over at home; urge your neighbors to vote for the welfare of the schools. Jacksonville must not let this emergency go unnoticed. It must be faced squarely and funds provided for keeping the schools on par with those of other communities.

The Y. M. C. A. Campaign

Many Jacksonville residents this week and next will take pleasure in making annual contributions to the Y. M. C. A. fund. They have recognized the value of the "Y" for many years. Its work has been apparent in this community, as throughout the country. It is just a question of how extensive the work here shall be, and many expressions favorable to an increased program of work have been heard.

"During these years of social and economic unrest and uncertainty, the Jacksonville Young Men's Christian Association has filled a great need in our city," Dr. Elsworth Black, president, stated. "During the years of great prosperity into which we are now entering, according to Roger Babson, and other recognized financial leaders, the Association will continue to be of untold value as it continues to build and strengthen the Christian character and good citizenship of our youth through the promotion of its program of leisure time activities in the realms of social, the physical, the intellectual and the religious."

Dr. C. P. McClelland, president of MacMurray College, who is serving as general chairman of the annual campaign, which opened yesterday and will continue to Oct. 14, also has paid high tribute to the work of the "Y." "Over a long period of years the Y. M. C. A. has proven its worth until it is recognized everywhere as an indispensable agency for promoting the moral and physical welfare of young men," Dr. McClelland said. "We are depending upon the local Y. M. C. A. to do its work, and, since it must be supported by private contributions, we must give generously of our money to maintain it at a high point of efficiency and this, I am confident, the citizens of Jacksonville will do during the coming year."

The campaign of the "Y" is well organized, with many of the city's most influential men and women giving it their time and funds. The Y. M. C. A. is a deserving organization, so that the amount needed should be subscribed quickly.

Eighteen Years Ago

Many a man in Morgan county and Central Illinois is recalling how fortunate his situation today as compared to his surroundings just 18 years ago.

It was in late September and early October, 1918, that the critical turn in the World War occurred, and the American army won its triumphant but sacrificial way to victory over the German military machine.

Morgan county boys were "over there." Family ties were broken by the war, with hearts heavy with fear that the separation would be permanent. Hundreds of families scanned newspapers, watched bulletin boards, and eagerly devoured letters that came from loved ones in military service. Those were anxious, soul-trying days, which no one wants repeated.

For 47 days the Meuse-Argonne drive marched resistlessly against an enemy equipped to the last words in means of defense and entrenched in mountains and valleys from which the Allies had been striving in vain for 4 years to dislodge them. The dispute has lately been renewed as to whether the American forces to the number of 2,000,000 fighting men should have been absorbed into the French and British divisions, or should remain in a distinct unit under wholly American command. The success which was won in those bloody Argonne days served to clinch a general victory for the Allies and to prove that General Pershing was right in his contention for a strictly American army.

Soldiers of America would never again want to repeat their experiences of the autumn of 18 years ago, but those who survive the dangers and sacrifice look back with pardonable pride to the part they played in the international drama.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

Al Smith Will Endorse Landon! That's Inside Tip Given Dutcher—New Yorker Expected to Go Whole Route When He Turns His Fire on New Deal's Policies

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

New York—Al Smith, in addition to attacking the New Deal with his bitter brand of scorn, will endorse Governor Landon by name, says an inside tip.

That's the answer to a question many politicians have been asking themselves—assuming, of course, that Smith doesn't change his mind. Some of the Republican strategists now say privately that Smith will cut more heavily into the Roosevelt vote than they previously anticipated, mainly in large cities such as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and Detroit.

Democrats consulted on that point are divided between those who say Smith will give votes to Roosevelt as often as he speaks and those who feel that Smith will be helpful to Roosevelt in some areas and harmful in others. The question as to whether Smith, in campaign speeches, would actually come out for Landon has been a question of whether this lifelong Democrat could actually be persuaded to declare for a Republican candidate other than by implication.

The inside tip from Republican sources is that Smith has so decided. Old associates of both Smith and Roosevelt admit that the bitterness which has grown up between the two men is now almost in the incredible stage.

Garner to Broadcast
Vice President John N. Garner will make a radio speech for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket. This is news to Republicans, who have been asserting that Garner had gone into the silences because he was personally opposed to most New Deal policies.

It may also be considered news, especially when you consider the prodigious oratorical activities of Col. Frank Knox, that the Democratic vice presidential candidate is lined up for only one speech. But others are expected to follow.

It is common talk in Washington that Garner does considerable grous-

THE LAST ONES TO LEAVE THE NEST

The Family Doctor

Breath of Fainting Victim Will Reveal if Drugs Are Cause

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

In an effort to determine the cause of unconsciousness, the doctor will smell the breath of the patient to find whether he has taken any unusual drugs, or a large dose of alcohol or ether; and whether the odor is typical of the condition called acidosis.

In doubtful cases, the doctor may take some of the patient's urine for chemical examination, since this may reveal the presence of poisoning or of a condition such as diabetes.

Before the fainting, there may be dizziness or lightheadedness. If the sense of dizziness merely comes and goes and yields quickly to proper hygiene, such as suitable attention to the diet, digestion, action of the kidneys, and correction of disorders of vision, one need not be disturbed.

If dizziness, however, occurs repeatedly, the circulation of the blood in the brain, the action of the heart, and changes taking place in the internal ear should be studied.

Some people faint much more easily than do others. Some faint from the slightest emotional shock caused by, for example, the sight of blood or an accident.

Just before a person faints, he is likely to feel weak and dizzy, his vision becomes blurred, his face turns pale, and he is covered with cold sweat.

The moment a person faints, he should be placed flat on his back with head lowered. If he is put to bed, the foot of the bed should be raised.

The color of his face indicates to some extent the amount of blood reaching his brain. If his face is very pale, his head should be kept lowered until the facial color improves. If, on the other hand, his face is extremely red, it may be desirable to keep his head raised.

A person who has fainted should have plenty of fresh, cool air. Cold water may be applied to the face or chest as a stimulant to recuperative action, or he may be made to inhale smelling salts.

The usual first-aid remedy, found in most family medicine chests, is a half teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia, given in water.

A person who has fainted should be kept quiet and should not be allowed to get up until the doctor is sure that everything is satisfactory.

A second attack may be fatal, particularly when unconsciousness and fainting is caused by an injury to the brain or the heart.

RECOVER BICYCLE

The bicycle reported stolen by Glen Havens was recovered by the police department Wednesday on information provided them by Bill DeSilva. DeSilva reported to the department that he had seen an abandoned bicycle in the weeds along Hooker street and the police department took the wheel to the station, where Mr. Havens claimed it.

Promote Manager of Local Theater to Belleville Position

Max Tschauder Notified of Change to Take Place Next Week

Max Tschauder, manager of the Fox-Illinois and Fox-Majestic theaters here for the past six years, received notice yesterday morning that he has been promoted to the management of the Belleville Fox-Illinois and Fox-Washington theaters. The change is to take place next week.

The promotion came as a distinct surprise to the local manager. He related yesterday morning that the former district manager has been promoted to the Kansas City office, and that the manager of the Belleville theater, Fred Suter, had been transferred to the district management. Mr. Suter spent a week here a few years ago when it was the custom to change managers of theaters for a week.

Ralph Bartlett, manager of the Fox theater in Benton, has been promoted to the management of the two local theaters. Mr. Tschauder said yesterday morning.

Mr. Tschauder, during his six years in this city, has made a large number of friends both for himself and for the company which he represents. He has taken part in a large number of community promotions and was preparing to take part in the Y.M.C.A. drive when notice of his promotion arrived.

Mr. Tschauder served as chairman of the entertainment committee for the Morgan county fair for five years, booking the free acts which appeared before the grand stand, engaging the band and making the announcements.

He was also a member of the boards of the Red Cross and Boy Scouts, and a member of the Kiwanis club, Chamber of Commerce, and the Zingbad Grotto and in each of the organizations gave freely of his time in their interests.

Mr. Tschauder said yesterday morning that he regretted to leave this city, where he has made a large number of friends, but was well pleased with the promotion. He expects to leave here sometime next week for his new position.

Helen M. Grigsby was included in the number of shoppers here yesterday from Pittsfield.

Oliver Coultas was in the city yesterday from Lynnville.

Twelve Rainy Days, Crazy Temperatures Recorded in Month

Hit High of 100 and Low of 43 During Month, is Norbury Report

Twelve rainy days and crazy temperatures was the record September left on the books at the Norbury Sanatorium, U. S. cooperative weather station, according to the monthly report issued yesterday.

During those twelve rainy days a total of 9.31 inches of rainfall was recorded, the report states, with Sept. 27 setting the record for any 24-hour period with a rainfall of 2.27 inches. Fifteen days during the month were clear, seven were partly cloudy, and eight were cloudy.

Recording ditty temperatures was another stunt of the month. Sept. 11 the mercury soared up to an even 100 degrees, but on Sept. 25 it went down to 43 degrees. On the 19th the mercury changed 34 degrees during the day and night.

The summer's heat was reflected in the average high temperature for the month, the weather station found, with an average of 83.56 degrees. The average low temperature for the thirty days was 60.8 degrees, and the average temperature was 72.18 degrees.

Thunderstorms were recorded on two days, Sept. 1 and 26, and the prevailing winds for the month blew out of the southeast.

$3 New fall hats $1.85.
Emporium.

Grace M. E. church arrived in the city yesterday, and greeted the membership at the church student social last evening. He will deliver his first sermon Sunday morning, Oct. 4. Rev. Mr. Williams comes here from the pastorate of the Euclid Avenue M. E. church in Oak Park.

He is Canadian born, but came to the United States in 1913. He received his A. B. degree from North Central College in 1917, after which he spent a year in war service with the Y.M.C.A. He joined the Rock River Conference in 1918, and in 1920 became a student at Garrett Institute, where he received his B.D. degree in 1922. He spent the next year at the University of Chicago, and received his M.A. in the summer of 1923.

Since that time he has served three pulpits: Wheaton in Evanston, St. John's in Chicago, and Euclid Avenue in Oak Park. Reverend Williams has been active in young people's work and for the last eleven years has been on the teaching leadership group at Lake Geneva Institute, and for three years was dean of the institute. He is at present chairman of the Commission on Evangelism of the Chicago Church Federation, and has been invited by the Emergency Peace Campaign to be one of the speakers for a five-day period in the month of October.

Mrs. Williams is likewise Canadian born, and has her A.B. from North Central College. She was private secretary to Dr. J. T. Brabner Smith, publicity man for the Methodist Episcopal church in the years 1920-24.

There are four daughters in the family: Roma, Joan, Kathleen, and Adine.

Brown Dobyns Has Article Published

Abstract of Article Will Appear Soon in Medical Journal

"The Anatomical Record," which is an authority in medical circles, is publishing "Notes on An Artery of the Moderator Band" by Brown M. Dobyns, 35, Illinois College. It will be abstracted in the "Institute of Bibliographic Survey." This work was done in his first year at Johns Hopkins Medical school.

The article is of more than usual interest since Mr. Dobyns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dobyns, 1109 West State street, Jacksonville, and a graduate of the local college. Work of this nature in so young a man gives promise of a brilliant career. On account of the merit of the article, the "Record" thought the work was the product of a graduate physician, not that of a first year student.

Kept the Date —and Her Job

Because she kept a date with Rudy Vallee for a party at Rudy's Maine camp, Judy Stewart, above, was threatened with loss of her showgirl job in Boston. The manager of her troupe took her back after she had missed one performance, but Judy was still indignant over questions regarding a possible romance with Vallee. With two sisters, she once sang on Vallee's radio program.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A recent article indicated the place the Young Men's Christian Association has taken in creating interest in physical recreation among girls and women of this city. This article indicates how the progress of association work among boys and men in this community has been remarkable, considering the lack of a building and necessary equipment to give atmosphere toward a general "Y" program. Operating under this handicap, A. D. Hermann, general Y.M.C.A. secretary, has made use of opportunities available at the local school building and playgrounds by conducting an active physical and vocational program that has filled a real community need.

During the school year, boys clubs are organized in each of the grade schools. These clubs are known as Boy's Gra-Y Club, in the Junior High School as the Torch Club. These groups are under the leadership of Illinois College students. The High School club known as the Hi-Y is under the direct supervision of Mr. Hermann.

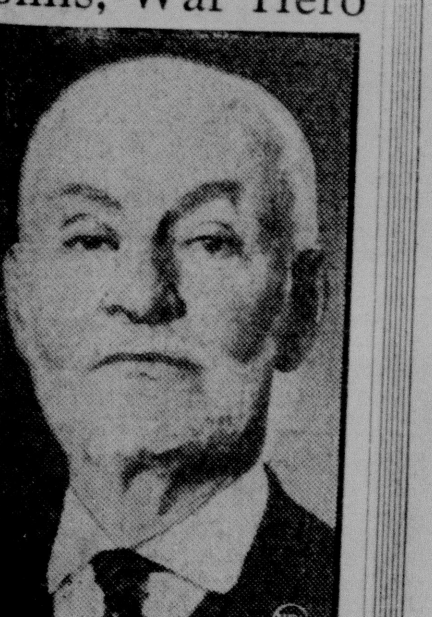

A volleyball league, comprising of twelve teams, offers an outlet of physical recreation for young men that are not in school. This makes possible the participation of several hundred men in a definite program. The Y. M. C. A. softball league and its popularity this summer gave ample evidence of what real pleasure may be had, not only by the several hundred players but also the thousands of fans that attended these games.

The Y.M.C.A. is in a position to direct a definite program of this kind as well as many other types of activities because no line is drawn relative to creeds or lodge affiliations. The "Y" is a community asset and as such, deserves the support of every citizen interested in the promotion of clean living and clean sportsmanship. An opportunity will be presented to you within the next few days to contribute to this worthy organization. The more liberal your subscription, the finer, bigger and better "Y" program this community will have during the coming year.

Centennial Plans At Virginia Make Rapid Progress

Three Day Celebration to Be Held October 6, 7, 8;
Cass News

Virginia.—Plans for Virginia's three-day centennial celebration to be held here Oct. 6, 7, 8 are progressing rapidly. Business men and other leading citizens are leaving nothing undone to make the three-day celebration a success.

The first day, Tuesday, Oct. 6, will be homecoming day. There will probably be a baseball game in the afternoon and a doll buggy parade and contest are also planned for this day.

The second day, Wednesday, Oct. 7, will be farmers' day. Free burgoos will be served to every one on this day. A bicycle parade and contests will be a feature of the afternoon program, and in the evening a program by the county recreation committee will be given in the park.

Thursday, Oct. 8, will probably be the outstanding day as it has been designated as centennial day. A 2 o'clock in the afternoon a grand parade of floats will start, and prizes will be given for the best entries. At 3:30 a concert will be given by the Jacksonville Hospital band. A number of contests will also be held.

As a grand finale the historical pageant will be presented at 8 o'clock on the high school grounds. A cast of approximately 150 people will appear in the twenty episodes depicting noted events from 1834 to the present time.

Decorating for the event has been placed in the hands of Mr. Yack of Springfield, who is experienced in this line of work. He will have charge of the decorations around the square as well as on the bandstand and the

News Notes

The Kiwanis club held the weekly meeting Monday evening at the Legion hall. The usual 6 o'clock supper was followed by a safety meeting, with Vice-President M. M. Cruft presiding. Earl R. Rice, secretary of the Springfield Automobile Association, and T. M. Tomlinson of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce were the guest speakers. A committee will be appointed to organize a school patrol to be on duty at some of the more dangerous crossings.

J. H. Massie, local undertaker, returned Saturday from Toledo, O., where he purchased a new Ford ambulance.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, who are leaving this city this week to take up a new pastorate at Moweaqua, were guests of honor at two events on Monday.

On Monday afternoon a number of their neighbors gathered at the manse and gave them a handkerchief shower. Mesdames Alex Bertilino, Thomas Whalen, and Elmer Harris were hostesses, and served refreshments following a social afternoon.

Others present were Mrs. Elizabeth Conover, Mrs. J. E. Edwards, Mrs. Mollie McGuire, Misses Miza and Flora.

SEE STRIKE SETTLEMENT

Sterling, Ill.—(P)—Final settlement of a mid-summer strike at the Northwestern Wire company plant here was sighted today. L. W. Beaman, regional director of the National Relations Board, last night said the company intended to re-employ within two weeks 44 union men who claimed they were "locked out" when others went back to work. The strike was the first carried on by a union affiliated with the John L. Lewis committee for industrial organization.

Woodring Assumes War Chief Job

The nation's new secretary of war, Harry Woodring, is shown here after he had assumed his duties as successor to the late George Dern of Utah, his desk in the War Department at Washington bedecked with flowers in honor of his promotion by President Roosevelt. Woodring, former governor of Kansas, has been serving as assistant secretary of war.

Illinois College Lists Alumni and Students in Book

Names, Addresses and Business are Listed in Directory Compiled Here

A new directory of living alumni and former students of Illinois College is now in the mails. As the last directory was issued in 1927, a new one was much needed. The alumni office has been engaged in compiling it during the past year, under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Rammeikamp, alumni secretary. Giving the names, addresses, occupations, and society affiliations in college of all living alumni and former students, the directory lists a total of 3,540 names, which are arranged by classes and also under a locality index. The various alumni associations with their respective officers are listed, as well as a number of interesting statistics. While the present directory contains the names of living alumni and former students only, it is hoped that a catalog of all Illinois College alumni and former students, both deceased and living, may be issued within the next few years.

October Events for Jersey Home Bureau

Many Activities Planned by Farm Women; $15,000 Suit Is Lost in Court

Jerseyville — Miss Helen Steers, home adviser for Jersey county has announced the schedule of meetings and events for the bureau during the month of October.

The announcement of events is as follows: Oct. 1st, Greenfield District Organization Training School; Oct. 2, Executive Board Meeting; October 6th, Fidelity Unit; Oct. 8th, Elsie Unit; Oct. 13, Evening meeting, "Living Together in the Family," Miss Walls; Oct. 14, Northeast Jersey Unit meeting; Oct. 15, Southeast Jersey meeting; Oct. 16, District Organization School (District One); October 19, p. m. Kane Unit; Oct. 21, 22, 23, 24, Farm and Home Advisers' Conference; Oct. 26, Jerseyville Junior Unit; Oct. 27, Major Project, Local Leaders Training School (District Eleven) October 30th, District Organization Training School (District III).

The lesson subjects for October are as follows: Adviser, Synthetic Textiles; Local Leaders, Buying Ready-to-wear; Minor Project—Better English. The local leaders' training school is scheduled for the 27th of the month and at that time Miss Edna Gray will train the major project local leaders on the topic of "Fabrics for Winter Clothes." This meeting will be held at the Farm Bureau office in Jerseyville at ten a. m.

The District organization training school at Greenfield Thursday begins at ten a. m., and is for the purpose of giving help in membership work.

During October there will be three follow-up schools of the organization training schools held in the county in March of this year. A check will be made concerning the attainment of aims set up in the spring. The three districts are: Otterville, Delhi and Godfrey, Elsie and North Mississippi incorporated into District One; Fidelity, Kemper and Bethel as District Two, and Panhandle, Kane, West Prairie, Southeast Jersey, Northeast Jersey, Jerseyville, Jr., and Jerseyville, District Three.

Weds In St. Louis
Miss Gertrude Fleming of St. Louis, formerly of this city, was married at eight o'clock Thursday morning, October 1st, to Alfrancis Tack of St. Louis. The ceremony was performed at the Holy Family church in St. Louis.

The young couple was attended by Miss Rite Fleming and John Fleming, sister and brother of the bride. Following the wedding a breakfast was served to the bridal party and immediate relatives at the Hotel Saum in St. Louis.

The bride is a daughter of the late John Fleming of Jerseyville, and Mrs. Annie Fleming of St. Louis. She is a graduate of the Jersey Township High school and since her graduation has held secretarial positions in this city and in St. Louis.

No Damages Awarded
The jury in the case of Hazel Terheller vs. George Hoffstetter, doing business as the Staunton Tie and Lumber company, returned a verdict of "Not Guilty" at eight o'clock Tuesday evening after three and a half hours' deliberation. The trial had occupied the attention of the September Term of the Jersey County Circuit Court for two days.

The case was a personal damage suit for $15,000 brought by Mrs. Terheller against the defendant as the result of an auto accident which occurred on August 15, 1934 about seven thirty o'clock in the evening, on the

Social Events

Belles Lettres Society

Hold Evening Rush Party

The traditional Belles Lettres "cocktail hour" was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Homer Potter, Mound avenue. An orchestra provided music for dancing and delightful refreshments were served. Unusual favors, memo books, in the form of Belles Lettres shields and hand woven doilies, received direct from China for the occasion, were an added feature.

Among the fifty guests were the following: Dorothy Bell, Marie Dickman, Jean Whiting, Geraldine Baer, Amelia Rexman, Betty Claire Woltman, Geraldine Lewis, Kay Gaunt, Mary Cook, Marynette White, Emma Holle, Dora Margaret Neal, Doris Michael, Arlene Highbarger, Ruth Kendall, Louise Blimling, Josephine Erickson, Ester Lily Kuhn, Imogene West, Ruth Steagall, Marjorie Mahan, Virginia Quintal, Virginia Rollins, Geraldine Wible, Mary Emma Keal, Marguerite Gore, Juanita Amyx, Gwendolyn Sheeder, Hene Arnold, Wilhelmina Speth.

Formal Dinner Given By

Belles Lettres Society

The formal dinner of Belles Lettres society was held at the Colonial Inn Wednesday evening following a fruit cocktail party. The program included vocal selections by Miss Rhoda Olds and piano numbers by Miss Mahala McGhee. A group of readings was given by Miss Ann Scott.

Yellow and blue hand cut place cards from China were the favors. Dancing and a social hour followed the dinner. The invitations to Belles Lettres of MacMurray college rushing parties consisted of picture frames, enclosing the rusher's picture, underneath which the events of rush week were engraved in Old English print.

Mrs. R. A. Gates, Mrs. Homer Potter, the active members of the society, and the formal dinner rushers were present at the formal dinner: Jean Whiting, Ruth McGahey, Geraldine Baer, Marie Dickman, Catherine Buchner, Grace Haight, Emma Holle, Dora Margaret Neal, Doris Michael, Peg Sullivan, Margaret Miller, Hilda Roodhouse, Arlene Highbarger, Ruth Kendall, Louise Blimling, Betty Cooley, Ann Daamann, Hene Arnold, Idella Western, Janet Swanson, Barbara Koenig, Virginia Quintal, Mary Emma Keal, Marguerite Gore, Juanita Amyx, Jean Dunham, Gertrude Morrow, Gwendolyn Sheeder, Charlotte Trent and Mickey Wisler.

Phi Nu Society of MacMurray

Gives Formal Dinner Dance

Phi Nu society of MacMurray College gave a formal dinner dance, "Passport Ball", the concluding rushing party of "Modes of Travel", at the Country Club, Wednesday evening.

A nautical atmosphere filled the "shipshape" club. Passports were issued to everyone by Aida Laura De Witt and Dicy Lee Begg, and all guests received gardenia corsages. The table decorations of silver sailboats and place cards of life savers with anchors were in charge of Ruth Bonn.

The rushers were: Kaye Scott, Barbara Briggsby, Mary A. Pascoe, Imogene West, Martin H. Youp, Mary Margaret Duckett, Virginia Wingett, Barbara Mason, Betty C. Woltman, Jean Todd, Jean Handke, Marjorie McConnell, Virginia Robinson, Jacqueline Curry, Margaret Berry, Geraldine Cremire, Kay Gaunt, Josephine Erickson, Mary Sue Wootton, Beverly Welsh, Dean Roma N. Hawkins was also a guest.

The rush captains for rush week were: Marjorie Blackburn and Emilene Harber. Morrie Craig's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing.

Lambda Alpha Mu Society Conducts Rushes on Tour

Lambda Alpha Mu continued its rush parties in the form of a "Trip Round the World" Wednesday. At 4:30 a Japanese tea was served in Lambda hall. Guests removed their shoes before entering the hall and sat on the floor to drink their tea in true Japanese style. Miss Dorothy Remley and Mrs. Ida Minter poured.

"Darkest Africa" was discovered to be the field house on the MacMurray athletic field. After an exciting hunting expedition, bowls of chili cooked over an open fire were served.

Fashion Show Entertains

Phi Nu society of MacMurray College entertained rushers at tea and a fashion show, "Six Parade of Fashion", the third rushing party of "Modes of Travel" given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Cleary, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Harrison presided at the tea table during the afternoon.

Many attractive ensembles were shown with fitting comments. The models in the fashion show, directed by Eileen Kitts, were: Ruth Bonn, Alice Marie Lukeman, Doris Overby, Elizabeth King, Margaret Lukeman, Mary Ellen Moin, Victoria Seymour, Wilmina Cohlmeier, and Kay White. On leaving the rushers received handkerchief parachutes for "Happy Landings."

The rushers were: Grace Haight, Cathryn Buchner, Helen Webb, Jacqueline Curry, Virginia Robinson, Jean Handke, Barbara Mason, Mary Margaret Duckett, Marian Hyrup, Mary A. Pascoe, Virginia Kerr, Barbara Briggsby, Kaye Scott.

The following honorary members of Phi Nu were guests: Mrs. C. P. McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Baggs, Miss Mahala McGhee, Miss Grace Tickle, Miss Empo Henry, Mrs. Harrison.

Today's Pattern

GUARANTEED to make a mature figure look much more slender is this lovely afternoon frock (No. 8668). Softness across the shoulders, a bit of real lace at the neck and full sleeves that fit snugly at the wrists are details that make for flattery. Use satin, silk or velvet with lace for contrast. Patterns are sized 36 to 52. Size 44 requires 5-1-4 yards of 39-inch fabric with 1-2 yard all-over lace for contrast.

To secure a PATTERN and STEP-BY-STEP SEWING INSTRUCTIONS, fill out the coupon below, being sure to MENTION THE NAME OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

The FALL and WINTER PATTERN BOOK, with a complete selection of late dress designs, now is ready. It's 15 cents when purchased separately. Or, if you want to order it with the pattern above, send in just an additional 10 cents with the coupon.

Concord Domestic Art Club Meets At Rayborn Home

First Meeting of Year Held; Other News Notes from Concord

Concord—Mrs. J. J. Rayborn was hostess to the Concord Domestic Art club Wednesday afternoon at the first meeting of the club after the summer vacation. Most of the members were present, also two guests. The program was as follows: Several letters were read by the president, Mrs. C. E. Newton. Roll call was responded to by payment of dues. The presentation of suggested projects were, Public Welfare, Miss Alma Deterding; American Homes, Mrs. George Deterding; Club Institutes, Mrs. J. J. Rayborn; Civil Service, Mrs. C. C. Mason. Group of songs and closing song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." "Mizpah" repeated in unison. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

News Notes Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rayborn and twin sons, John and Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rayborn left here on Thursday morning for a two days' visit with relatives. Their first stop was at the home of Mrs. Mary Cloud and her brother, John, in Bethany, then calling on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cloud in Decatur. On their return they called on Mr. and Mrs. William M. Burrus, near Buffalo Hart.

The two weeks meeting at the Christian church started on Monday night according to schedule. Fair sized audiences greeted the Chapin minister, C. R. Porter, who fills his regular appointment at Chapin. On Sunday evening at the usual hour the service will be in charge of Mr. Russell Keyes, a young minister of Detroit, Pike county. On Monday evening the Chapin church was well represented in the audience which was highly appreciated by the local congregation.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. C. E. Newton on Thursday at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church will serve baked chicken at Morgan hall on the evening of Oct. 21.

Mrs. Jessie M. Davis Is Called by Death

Resident Here 35 Years Dies Yesterday; Funeral Will Be Saturday

Mrs. Jessie Mae Davis passed away at 4:05 o'clock yesterday morning at her home, 428 West Chambers street, after a lingering illness. She was the daughter of John and Anna Pearson Strommatt, and was born in Macoupin county Aug. 16, 1881.

She was married at Modesto Jan. 24, 1900, to John Wesley Davis, who preceded her in death April 4, 1931. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Ruth Powers, Misses Fern and Lucille Davis, and Paul Davis, all of this community, Irvin B. Davis of LaPorte, Ind., and Mrs. Mary Johnson of Manchester. She leaves also the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Z. J. Smith, Mrs. Ocie Carpenter, both of Sanger, Calif.; Mrs. Louanna Mynach and Velma Davis, both of Fresno, Calif.; William Strommatt of Toulare, Calif.; Mrs. Ethel Winninger of Gate City, Va., and Mrs. Fern St. Clair of Mount Morris, Ill.

Mrs. Davis had been a resident of this city and county for the past 35 years. She was a member of First Baptist church. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Gillham Funeral Home, in charge of Rev. F. D. Stone, with interment in Jacksonville cemetery. The remains will be removed to the residence this morning, and will be returned to the funeral home an hour before the services.

Brought from Morocco to Aid Rebels

A sharp contrast with the straggling, motley columns of the loyalist civilian militia, the well disciplined troops brought from Morocco to fight for the rebel cause occupy Burgos, in Southern Spain, in an orderly, military march, neatly uniformed and their cartridge belts bulging threateningly.

K. C. Pinochle Cup Tourney Will Open Next Tuesday Night

New Officers Elected By Club; John Coonen Is Defending Champion

The sixth annual Knights of Columbus pinochle cup tournament will begin next Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, with the newly elected officers in charge. At a recent meeting George White, Sr., was elected president, John E. Coonen, vice president, and Bernard Reavy, secretary-treasurer.

This tournament will be along the same lines as it has been in previous years. The club will play seven games each evening for ten consecutive Tuesday evenings. Players missing one or more regular nights of play will be allowed to make up their scores at a number of off night playings, which will be conducted on Friday nights. Two prizes will be awarded for each evening's play, with the K. of C. cup as the grand prize for the tournament. This cup is now in the possession of John Coonen, the winner of the fifth tournament held last fall. However, in order to retain permanent possession of the cup, one player must win it three times.

After the conclusion of the cup tournament it is planned to conduct a tournament for members of the local council and their ladies. This play was tried out very successfully last spring, and is expected to prove very popular in K. of C. circles this year.

White Sox Take First Game Of City Series Over Cubs 5 To 1

Giants and Yankees Will Hook up in Second Game Of World Series Today

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The combination of two days of increasingly heavy rain and an unusually high tide, blocking the drainage facilities of the near sea-level diamond at the Polo grounds, brought about a cessation of hostilities today in New York's baseball civil war.

As a direct consequence of the first postponement of a world series game in eight years, President Roosevelt will view the second game at the Polo grounds tomorrow, instead of the third contest at the Yankee stadium, as he originally had planned.

Moreover, the delay appears to fortify the pitching advantage already gained by the Giants as a result of Carl Hubbell's masterful triumph over the Yankees in the mud and rain of yesterday's opening game.

It assures an extra day of rest for Hubbell's talented left arm while paying the way for a duel tomorrow between Hal Schumacher, sinker-ball star of the National league champions, and the southpaw ace of the Yankees, Vernon Gomez.

Three hours before today's scheduled starting time for the second game, Commissioner Keneasaw Mountain Landis poked his walking stick into the soggy surface of the Polo grounds, explained mud that was fetlock-deep around the base-paths, and agreed with rival managers that the grounds were in no condition for play.

Following the postponement, the sun came out, temperatures rose and a brisk breeze helped dry out the water-logged premises. By early afternoon, conditions were so much improved, with workmen busy under the direction of 74-year-old Henry Fabian, groundskeeper, that the entire field looked playable.

Under the circumstances, however, officials of both clubs concurred with Landis in the belief that the postponement was practical from the standpoint of players as well as spectators.

With prospects of better and much warmer weather for the rest of the week, the warring clans hope to resume the battle tomorrow under vastly improved conditions. The Giants have already proved themselves better mud-horses, with Hubbell demonstrating he has superior class under any variety of playing conditions, but the Yankees have high hopes for their free-swinging sluggers.

Attendance figures should improve in keeping with the weather, with the Polo grounds likely to hold a crowd much closer to its capacity 52,000 than the hardy gathering of 39,419 that braved pneumonia risks to see the Giants take the opener from the skidding Yankees by a 6 to 1 count.

President Roosevelt, after a stop-over in Jersey City tomorrow morning to dedicate a new medical center, will arrive in New York in time for luncheon at a mid-town hotel (Biltmore) and motor to the ball park around 1 o'clock, a half-hour before game time.

Secret service men, shifting their advance preparations from one side of the Harlem river to the other, selected a box to the right of the Giants' dugout for the presidential party. Police perfected elaborate arrangements to facilitate the seating of the nation's chief executive.

Today's postponement, while generally considered to strengthen the Giants' position, caused no change in the betting odds. Jack Doyle, Broadway commissioner, said it was still "4 to 5 and take your pick" for the series.

The Yankees ruled favorites to win the second game and square the series, despite indications that Schumacher is back in top form and ready to back up Hubbell's great work the way he did in speeding the Giants to their decisive 1933 victory over the Senators.

Whether Schumacher wins or loses tomorrow, Manager Bill Terry of the Giants indicated he will give Hubbell a full three days rest before sending his southpaw ace back to the firing line. This means Fred Fitzsimmons likely will draw the starting assignment for the third game, Saturday, at the Yankee stadium, with Hubbell working the fourth game Sunday.

"We've got the edge and I figure we can keep it," said Terry. "The postponement suits us. I might change my plans but the way it looks now Hubbell will not work again until the fourth game."

From the Yankee standpoint the day off figures to give Joe McCarthy's young men that much extra time to pull themselves together and regain the confidence they seemed to lose in the mud during the closing stages of yesterday's game.

Backers of the Yankees still believe their favorites can concede the Giants two games, with Hubbell pitching, and still collect the winner's share of the world series player pool.

The burden is heavy, however, on the slender shoulders of the talented but erratic Gomez. He must pitch the Yankees back to even terms tomorrow if the American leaguers hope to escape being routed by the aggressive band of opportunists under the leadership of the resourceful Terry. The left-hander was among the few to feel disgruntled by the delay.

After seeing how rapidly the Polo grounds was responding to the improving weather and businesslike treatment, Gomez complained:

"What do I do? I go home and worry all night. I don't get a wink of sleep and then get up and go to a restaurant and I order the biggest steak in the place. Boy, I figure I'm really going to have power out there. And then what happens? They call off the ball game."

To which a team-mate replied: "Well, you might as well cheer yourself up by thinking how much more power you will have after two sleepless nights."

"Little 19" Grid Teams Play Today

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Twenty Illinois intercollegiate conference grid squads are scheduled to see action tomorrow, Schuette college being the one team idle.

Six conference teams inaugurate their seasons, with the other 14 having tested their plays earlier. On the schedule are six conference games.

Eureka's pigskin warriors get their season's start Saturday against Bradley, and have seven lettermen on tap for the varsity.

Twelve lettermen form the nucleus of the Lake Forest squad which starts its schedule against Beloit. Coach Ralph Jones' team averages 180 pounds.

The Millikin co-champions have been bolstered by the return of Nick Gilbert, one-armed regular tackle from Casey, Tom Alvey, of Lincoln, who formerly played at the U. of Tennessee is said to be the answer to Coach Johnson's center problem, if he is eligible.

Jim Trevor is the third player of that name to hold down the tackle job at Knox. Everett Trevor first put the name on the score sheets in 1917, and was followed by Dean Trevor in '26. Jim Trevor was a guard last year but has been shifted to tackle.

Wheaton and Eastern Teachers, which clash Saturday, both have new coaches. Fred Walker was off to a good start when his Wheaton Crusaders swamped Adrian, Mich., 19 to 0 last week, but Eastern Teachers, under Gil Carson, have yet to show their mettle. Carson has 17 freshmen on his traveling squad of 22 players.

The schedule (all games Saturday). Carthage at Monmouth x. Western Teachers at Millikin x. Bradley (x) at Eureka x. Elmhurst (x) at Northern Teachers x.

State Normal at Southern Teachers x. Eastern Teachers (x) at Wheaton x. Illinois College at Illinois Wesleyan x.

McKendree (x) at Missouri Mines, Rolla. Principia at Knox (x). Beloit at Lake Forest (x). North Central at Carroll.

St. Viator at Marysville, Mo. Teachers. Augustana Varsity vs. Frosh. z-Conference game. x-First game.

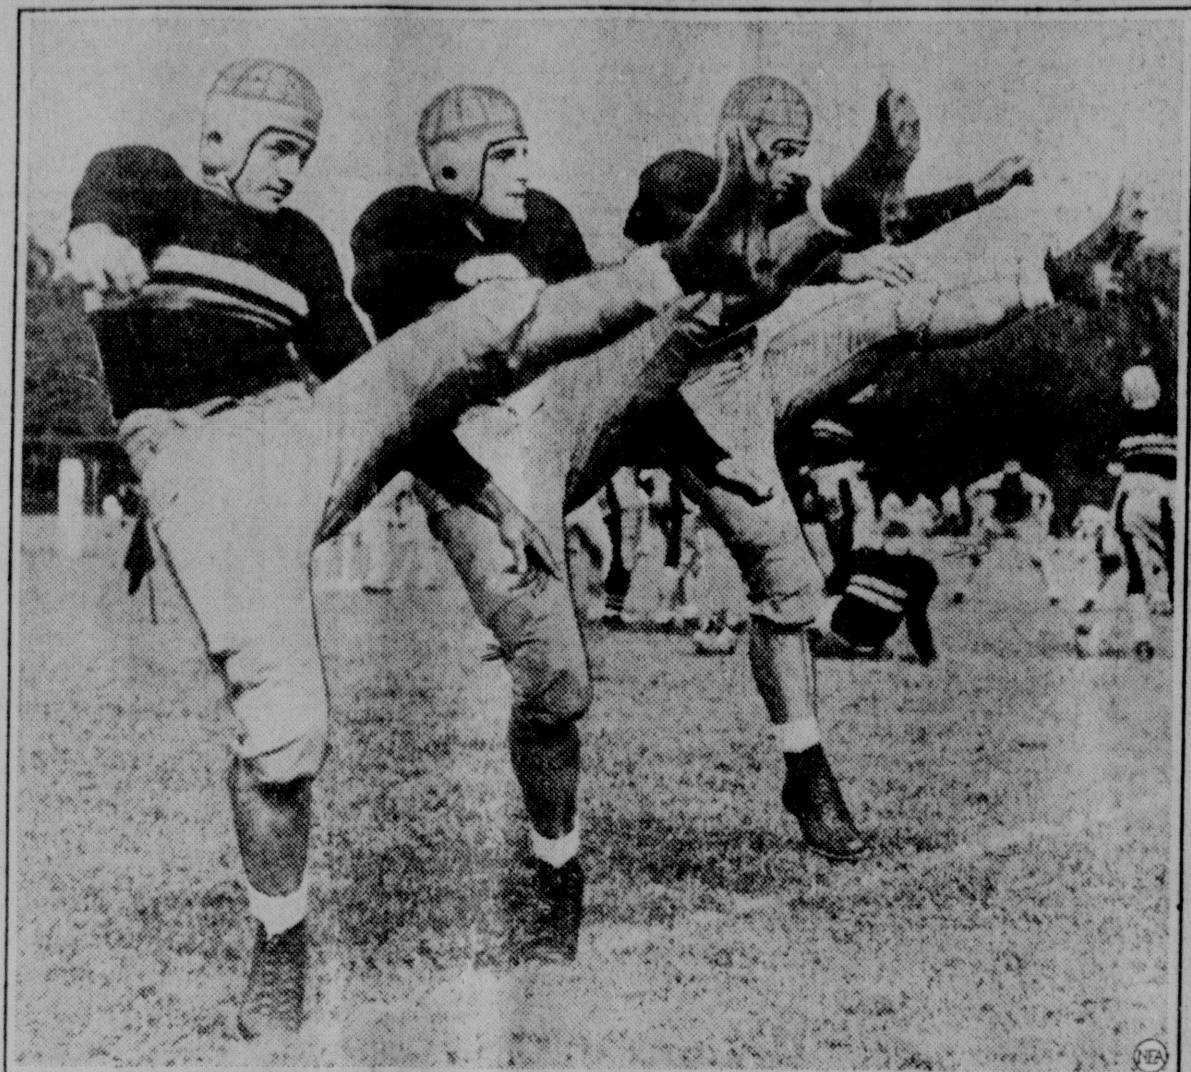

MANCHESTER HERD TO FORT WORTH FAIR

White Hall.—Edward Westerhold and John and Carey Andras left Tuesday for Fort Worth, Texas, with 13 head of Hereford cattle belonging to Andras Brothers of Manchester. After showing them at Fort Worth they will go to Kansas City, Missouri, to show them at the American Royal Stock Show. They have already won prizes at the Iowa State Fair, Sedalia, Missouri State Fair, and the Illinois State Fair at Springfield.

Leo Westerhold and Gerald Lorton left last week for the Oklahoma State Fair at Oklahoma City. They will leave this Friday night with a herd of Hereford cattle belonging to Dr. Harris of Fort Worth, Texas, for Fort Worth to show them in a cattle show.

Sam R. Thompson of the Arenzville community was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

Tigers Leave For Indianapolis Today

Burns Will Pit New Team Against Older Boys On Saturday

Illinois School for the Deaf Tigers will leave today for Indianapolis where on Saturday they will meet the Indiana School for the Deaf football players, and already Coach S. Robey Burns is head over heels in worry.

In the first place, the Tigers will have to use a bunch of newcomers, about whom Burns knows little except that they will scrap, against a team which he suspects will have several boys on it over the 29 year age limit. Indiana does not observe the high school federation age limit of 20 years, a fact which will work a hardship on the Tigers, Burns believes.

Still another worry, which Burns admits probably is the biggest one, is that the Indiana team plays under the collegiate rules, which among other things prohibits passing from less than five yards back of the line of scrimmage.

Indiana has invited the Tigers over to play the homecoming game, and in turning up for the Tigers tied their opening game and won their second game.

The Tiger coach said he probably would start Rajski and Burns, ends. Dhondt and Deitch, tackles. Irwin and Niemeyer, guards. Clements, center. Bobby Madison, quarterback. Wells and Otten, halfbacks, and Carlson, fullback.

Goben and Barr, ends. Gasparini and Korando, tackles. Vegas and Malone, guards. Huml, center. Long, quarterback. Hotschatter, and Millick, halfbacks. Schrader and Levin, fullbacks, and Arino, manager, also will make the trip.

Vern Kennedy Holds Bruins To Four Hits While Mates Pound Bill Lee For 5 Runs

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Chicago's hustling White Sox picked up today where they left off two years ago, and with Vernon Kennedy permitting the Cubs only four hits, belted out a 5 to 1 triumph in the opening game of the Chicago city championship series, at Wrigley field.

Delayed a day by yesterday's rain, the game was played before only 12,314 fans who saw Jimmy Dykes' White Sox cram all their punch into one inning, the fifth, at the expense of big Bill Lee, who started for the Cubs, to score all their runs. Tex Carleton, who replaced Lee after the lousy fifth, was a fine pitcher, yielding only two hits and striking out six batters in four innings, but the best the Cubs could do against Kennedy was a run in the ninth, scored with the aid of an error.

By getting the jump today in the current series, the White Sox ran their string of victories over the Cubs in city title play to six they won the 1931 set by winning the seventh game, and whipped through the last previous renewal of civil warfare in four straight. The Cubs were held to a total of three runs in 1933 and today's beating gave them a record of four runs against White Sox; pitching in 45 innings.

Today's battle was a brilliant pitching duel between Kennedy, who headed Dykes' pitchers with 21 victories and nine defeats as the Sox finished third in the American league race, and Lee, who turned in a record of 16 victories and 11 defeats to help the Cubs tie the St. Louis Cardinals for second position in the National league.

Kennedy gave only two hits during the first four innings and Lee had permitted only one. In the fifth, however, Lee walked Luke Appling, the American league batting champion, to start the inning, and the Sox didn't stop until they had five runs. Jack Hayes followed with a single, and Appling scored when Dykes, in attempting to sacrifice, was struck on the back by Phil Cavarretta's throw.

Luke Sewell was walked intentionally, filling the bases, and Hayes scored while Kennedy was being thrown out by Bill Jurgens. Rip Radcliff polished off the attack by driving one of Lee's pitches into the right field bleachers for a hom run, scoring Dykes and Sewell ahead of him.

Kennedy appeared headed for a shutout until Dykes fumbled a grounder by Ken O'Dea, who batted for Carlton in the ninth. Johnny Gill doubled with one out, and went to third on Jurgens' long fly to Mule Haas in right. The lone Cub run came in when Dykes failed to hang onto O'Dea's roller for an error.

The series scene will move to Comiskey park, the Sox strong-hold, tomorrow, with Monte Stratton pitching for today's victors, and Lon Warneke, the Cubs' old reliable, working for the National leaguers.

died today, following a critical illness of five days. He was 64 years old.

George Huff, born on a farm near Champaign, June 11, 1872, was one of the most dominant forces in western conference athletics for more than 40 years.

He had a leading part in almost every important development in the Big Ten athletic picture, and with Fielding H. Yost of the University of Michigan, and A. A. Stagg, Sr., during the latter's long career at the University of Chicago, formed a powerful and respected triumvirate in the conference's sports affairs.

He entered the University of Illinois in 1897, at the age of 15, after graduation from Englewood High school, Chicago. Almost immediately, he became associated with athletics. He became director of athletics in 1901, and in 1924 became director of physical welfare. With the establishment of the School of Education in 1932, he became director, overseeing physical education for men and women, the professional courses in physical education, intercollegiate and intramural athletics and the health service.

An idealist, "G", as he was known to numerous friends, insisted on the strictest adherence to conference and amateur rules, and was an unyielding foe of wagering on football games.

His first sports love, and always his favorite, was baseball. He was a member of the Illinois teams of 1890-90-91 and 1893, and in 1891 and 1893 served as captain and manager. He also played on the 1890 and 1892 football teams.

He entered Dartmouth College in 1893 to study medicine and was a member of the football and baseball teams there.

Huff returned to Illinois in 1895 as assistant athletic director and coach, and in 1901 became head of the Illinois setup. He soon gave up coaching football, but continued to handle baseball for 24 years. Under his leadership, Illinois baseball teams compiled a great record, winning 11 conference titles, tying for another, and finish high the other years.

He left Illinois in 1907 to manage the Boston American League baseball club, but remained away only a year. He served as scout for Boston and the Chicago Cubs and was credited with bringing Tris Speaker, one of baseball's all-time greats, from Texas to stardom. Although he never encouraged his players to enter professional baseball, several became major league stars.

Huff is survived by his widow, the former Katherine L. Naughton, whom he married in 1897; two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Murphy of Champaign, and Mrs. Elizabeth Downs of New Orleans, La., and a son, George A., of Champaign.

Heavy Rains Send Bottom From Dirt Routes in County

Waverly-New Berlin Road is Freshly Oiled, is Auto Club Report

Dirt roads throughout the county have been rendered almost impassable by the recent heavy rains. Several culverts have been washed away, and conditions of travel off the main highways are at present rather difficult.

The weekly bulletin of the Auto Club issued yesterday, reports that the road from New Berlin to Waverly has been oiled, and that it will not be open to travel for a few days. Some stretches of the old state road between here and Springfield will be oiled this week, weather permitting.

Memphis, Tenn., is 436 miles from Jacksonville via US-36 to Springfield, US-66 to the junction of Ill-43; Ill-43 to the junction of Ill-150; Ill-150 to Ware, Ill.; Ill-146 to Cape Girardeau, and US-61 to Memphis. All paved.

Hot Springs, Arkansas is 611 miles from Jacksonville via the above route to Cape Girardeau, Missouri, thence on US-61 to West Memphis and US-70 to Hot Springs. All paved.

Louisville, Kentucky is 321 miles from Jacksonville via US-36 to Springfield; Ill-24 to Pana; Ill-18 to Junction with Ill-129; Ill-129 to Effingham; Ill-33 to Newton; Ill-130 to Olney; US-50 to Shoals, Indiana, and US-150 to Louisville.

US-60 in Shelby County Kentucky (between Louisville and Shelbyville) was closed to traffic September 29th. This road will be closed to traffic several months. Available detour via No. 155 to Elk Creek and No. 55 to Shelbyville. Adds ten miles.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania is 596 miles from Jacksonville via US-36 to Indianapolis, Indiana; US-40 to Cambridge, Ohio, and US-22 to Pittsburgh. All paved.

COACH HARRY STUHLREHER

INTENDS TO MAKE "ON WISCONSIN" SOMETHING MORE THAN JUST A ROLLING COLLEGE SCENE...

—:FAN BREEZES:—

At least two coaches in the Illinois Valley conference are having a lot of fun about their coming game. They are Coach Chapman at Winchester, and Coach Krughoff at Carrollton.

Excited by the report out of Jerseyville that Coach Greiner is going to introduce a shift new to this section of the country, both Chapman and Krughoff have announced that they are going to have something to toss at each other when their teams meet Friday afternoon.

Krughoff claims he has a new version of the tackle around play of former years, and Chapman has designed a play which the backs and part of the line handle the ball before one of the boys finally take out for the goal line.

Incidentally, when we tried to call up Andrew Chapman at Winchester the other day, the telephone operator told us they had no one under that name listed. That was peculiar because we had talked with Chapman over the phone not long before.

However, the telephone operator informed us that there was a "Hunter" Chapman listed and perhaps that might be the person we wanted. It was. We don't know whether the "Hunter" is a monicker Chapman picked up in his dinner club or whether it is his middle name.

Chapman is some shakes as a softball pitcher. He pitched the Winchester Kiwanis club to a championship at the tournament held in connection with the Illinois-Iowa convention Monday of this week. He had to pitch four games to get the title, and hurled three of them Monday.

Lewis Martin, who is in charge of one of the state game farms, gave us a little of the inside on the success the State Department on Conservation had this year in raising the first prairie chickens in captivity.

Previous attempts to raise these birds have failed because the birds starve to death shortly after they are hatched.

The reason for this, Martin told us he finally figured out, is that the young prairie chickens have been accustomed to have the mothers feed them. The young chickens stand with their heads up in the air, and will not put them down when food is dropped into the pen.

Martin says he finally worked out a plan of fixing lettuce on a feeder which was high enough above the heads of the young chickens that they couldn't help but see it. He said he couldn't describe the thrill he had when the birds took their first feed from this improvised feeder, and the thrill can easily be understood.

No other breeders had been able to raise prairie chickens in captivity. Now that a method of feeding them has been found, the problem of designing an automatic feeder has been turned over to the wild life survey at the University of Illinois. They expect to have a feeder available next year.

There are some big huskies out for football in various prep camps about the state this year. Hillsboro has Everett Jordan who weighs 250 pounds, Mt. Vernon has a 15 year old candidate for the football team who weighs 254 pounds, but Pekin has taken the honors thus far, exhibiting Italo Rossi, who lifts the bean at 265 pounds. Not bad for a boy still in high school.

Bill Mahnken, Beardstown high guard will be lost to the team sometime this month because of having reached the limit in age. Mahnken made the varsity string this year for the first time after three previous years of trying. He has missed only two or three practices during the four years he has been out for the squad.

to encourage them in their game with last year's champs. Roodhouse is said to have another strong team in the making this year.

Pittsfield will move to Louisiana, Mo., for a game with the high school team there Saturday afternoon. Louisiana had one of the stronger teams in the eastern part of the state last year, and several of the boys who played on that team are available again this year.

Virginia will be at home this afternoon against Table Grove, a Spoon River conference opponent, and Beardstown will go to Bushnell for another Spoon River conference game.

Milwaukee Wins Little Series

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 1.—(P)—The Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association overwhelmed the Buffalo Bisons, International league champions, 8 to 3 tonight to win the little world series, four games to one.

After winning the first three games, played on their home grounds, the Brewers lost the opening game here, 2-1, Tuesday night but slugged their way to a decisive triumph tonight, collecting 14 hits, including two home runs by Chet Laabs and one by Winny Wilburn.

Milwaukee also executed a triple play to end Buffalo's only rally. After the Bisons had driven Forrest Pressnell off the bill in the sixth inning to score their three runs, Buck Crouse, Bison catcher, lined to Hope, who doubled Dickshot off second and threw to first in time to catch Bolland off the bag.

The score by innings:

Federal Commission Finds Evidence of Fixing Milk Prices

Learns of Maneuvers Whereby N.Y. Dairy Farmers Lost Heavily, Claim

Washington.—(P)—A story of big stick tactics by giant milk concerns to maintain list prices, of rebates to chain stores and of a "manipulation" maneuver in New York whereby certain dairy farmers lost money at the rate of $200,000 a year was told today in a federal trade commission report.

The commission also said it found evidence of price agreements among big firms and that the Borden company, one of the largest, "at times refrained from competing" with other companies.

The report dealt with conditions in the vast New York milk shed, and discussed nation-wide milk products concerns which have headquarters in New York City.

It was prepared in response to a congressional mandate to determine whether any concern is tending toward monopoly, competing unfairly, or depressing the prices dairy farmers receive. The New York milk shed comprises the state of New York and parts of Vermont, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Two huge concerns, the Borden Company and National Dairy Products Corporation, were named as maintaining resale prices on their products. The Borden concern, it said, in some cases threatened to cut off supplies to distributors who sold for less than list prices. Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation, subsidiary of National Dairy, was said to have stopped sales to outlets which did not maintain prices.

In discussing cooperatives, commission investigators said evidence indicated that the Sheffield Producers Cooperative Association, with a membership of 15,000 dairy farmers, is "dominated and controlled" by its only customer, Sheffield Farms Company, a subsidiary of National Dairy.

Valley Campaign To Become Bit Tighter

Three League Games Carded and Two Teams Will Seek Good Starts

The race for the Illinois Valley football championship will become a bit tighter this week with six teams in action in conference games, and two of them getting off to their first start in conference play.

Carrollton victors over a fighting Pittsfield team last week, expected to be without the services of two regulars for their game this afternoon with Winchester. Paul Carter, tackle, and Richard Hindelang, end, received injuries in the Pittsfield game which may keep them out of action.

Carrollton still remains the favorite to cop the issue, unless Winchester's pass throwing and lateral tossing eleven can push its scoring machinery to a new high gear. Winchester romped over Virginia 49-0 in the opening game of the season, and then in turn fell under White Hall's powerful attack 40-7 last week.

Coach Chapman has been putting in a lot of work on his line during the past week in an effort to bolster it for the onslaughts of the heavier Carrollton line.

Tonight Jerseyville and Greenfield come to grips under the lights in the Greenfield bowl. The game will be the first conference tussle for Jerseyville after battling Girard to a tie score in its opening game a week ago. Greenfield took the short end of a 7-0 score at Pleasant Hill last week.

Monday's lone conference combat will bring Pleasant Hill to Roodhouse, where the Railroaders will get into action for the first time this year. Roodhouse was rained out of its warm-up tussle with Feltshans of Springfield, and consequently Coach Mason Campbell will be somewhat in the dark when the game begins.

Pleasant Hill won its first game in over a year last week and has that of Local Improvements, asking that a six inch water main be installed along their street, the improvement to be paid for by a special assessment. The petition also asks that the work be done as a WPA project. The petition was referred to the Board of Local Improvements.

Upon the request of Alderman George Brown, the council set a figure of $125 for a 30 inch opening clear across East College avenue, for a five foot opening for a tunnel, in order that contractors figuring the new MacMurray college building project would have a basis for making a bid on this particular item. The two prices were set up as official by the council. Bids for a new dormitory to be constructed on the site of the present athletic field are to be opened Oct. 6, and the opening in the street will be made in order to pipe east across the street.

The highway committee was given permission to establish the price without the necessity of submitting their proposal to the council.

Executive Board Of Boy Scout Council Discusses Program

Three Objectives Will Be Stressed; Men from 9 Districts Attend

A meeting of the executive board of the Abraham Lincoln Council Boy Scouts of America, was held at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the Dunlap hotel. Robert Lawler of Springfield, president of the council, presided over the session following dinner.

The executive board members approved plans for fall and winter activities, including a program and methods of finance as presented by the council president and Scout Executive Paul Hesser.

The president emphasized three important objectives for the coming months, which included interesting Scouts and Scouters in the national jamboree to be held in Washington, D. C. June 30 to July 9 next year, an active troop committee for each Scout troop, and the development of leadership and training in Scouting.

Mr. Lawler said one of the primary purposes of the Abraham Lincoln Council is to create and maintain conditions which will insure successful troop operation, which means conducting the troops in such a way that the boys will participate in character-developing activities.

"Interest is the basis for practical learning," the Council president asserted. "Without boy interest we cannot hope to do much; with it he may be helped considerably in forming his conduct habits."

Scout Executive Hesser outlined briefly plans for a finance campaign, which were approved by the board. This campaign will be held in the near future.

Attention was called to the Boy Scout circus to be held in the coliseum of the state fair grounds at Springfield on the evening of Oct. 12, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. One thousand Scouts from all districts of the council will participate in the program of demonstrations.

Representatives were present last night from nine of the eleven districts in the council. Springfield men at the session were A. R. Both, Clark Bullard, W. R. Delbert, Dr. John Green, Morris Myers, Leslie G. Pfeiffer, Walter Pickering, Carl Radeke, Frank Trutter, B. C. Yocum, Gregory McFall and Anthony Spinner, President Robert Lawler, Scout Executive Paul Hesser, Field Executives William G. Fisher and L. L. LaSasso.

Others were Harold Witte, Virginia; S. L. Smith and W. L. Worcester, Roodhouse; L. E. Stark and Ernest Neece, White Hall; L. Arnold, Hillview; J. O. Beasley and Carl Thompson, Virden; Fred Meek, Hillsboro; Ray Steinheimer, Rev. M. M. Blair, K. Gilchrist, A. C. Metcalf, James Walker, Jerome Prosterman and Fred E. Darr, all of Jacksonville.

BERA LADIES AID SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The Bera Ladies Aid met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jess Petefish, with Mrs. Clyde Lewis as assistant hostess. Surgical dressings for Passavant hospital were made, after which the following program was given. Mrs. Lewis was in charge: Opening song, "Stepping in the Light."

Devotions and prayer, Mrs. Harrison Robinson.

Playlet, "Taking Too Much for Granted," was presented by Mrs. Walter Houston, Mrs. Calvin Hicks, Mrs. Lorene Stewart, Miss Oley Beilschmidt.

Two contests in charge of Inez Beilschmidt and Lorene Stewart concluded the program.

Guests present included Mrs. Kenneth Pittman and son of Ashland; Miss Paula Allison of Jacksonville; June Flynn, Mrs. John Buchanan, Mrs. Clara Hicks, Mrs. Otis Keltner, the Misses Inez and Olie Beilschmidt, Lorene and Olie Stewart and Nell Robinson.

Delicious refreshments were served after which the Aid adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. L. J. Stewart in November.

War 'Orphans' Placed on Rations in Madrid

These Spanish children, left in Madrid when their parents went to the front, felt the pinch of the civil war tighter about them—as they were placed on rations at a volunteer food center in the capital. Madrid was put under a food ration card system in a desperate effort to check food hoarding after rebel forces cut off communication with south and west.

Car in Accident is Found Burned Here

Police Make Effort to Check Ownership of Abandoned Car

An automobile which Wednesday night was involved in an accident on South Main street was found early Thursday morning burned on the east hard road, and the police department yesterday was attempting to trace the ownership of the machine.

Police investigating the alleged theft of an automobile from Merle Green early Thursday, found the car abandoned between here and Alexander. It bore the license plates numbered 1-447-107.

Later in the morning Mrs. Bernard Strongman reported to the police department that the car she was driving and a car bearing the above numbered license plates collided on South Main about 8 o'clock Wednesday night. Mrs. Strongman reported that there were four occupants in the coupe at that time, and that the driver gave his name as Hubert Donnell of Woodson.

Mrs. Strongman reported that her automobile's left fender, tail light, and bumper were damaged when the coupe cut in sharply after attempting to pass her car. The coupe was damaged on the front end, she said.

The state department of registration has not yet issued a book of numbers covering licenses in the group in which the above numbers would be included.

Travel Talk Is Given Thursday At BWPC Meeting

Miss Laura Tice, Timewell, Describes Trip At Club Supper

Many countries passed in review before the members of the Business and Professional Woman's club, as Miss Laura Tice, of Timewell, addressed the society upon her travels abroad at the meeting Thursday evening at the American Legion Home.

The president, Miss Hester Burbridge, presented Miss Zoe Tyrell who introduced Miss Tice following the supper, which was served at 6:15 o'clock. Guests were also introduced and former members welcomed back to the organization.

Preceding the program Superintendent R. O. Stoops spoke upon the school tax increase for the educational fund of the public schools. Dr. Stoops pointed out that the average salary of teachers here is less than in other cities and that the amount of money spent for each pupil in Jacksonville is far less than in other parts of Illinois. During the business session the club voted to endorse the school tax increase.

A musical program, including several violin selections by Mrs. Clara Moore Nels, accompanied by Miss Mahala McGhee was enjoyed as a special feature of the evening, arranged by Miss Lorene Dewese, music chairman.

Miss Tice in her travelogue described the scenes in Glasgow, the bowling on the green, where the green is like velvet and the players wear rubber shoes and stood on rubber mats to cast the balls. She and her party visited the celebrated University, also the rock gardens. They saw among the many points of interest the art galleries. The Lady-of-the-Lake country was visited by Tally Ho, with a picturesque setting carried out in the costume of the driver, who was a native genuinely proud of his home land.

In Edinburgh the much quoted beauty of Princess street was described as meeting all expectations. The electric "flower clock," which keeps perfect time was a marvel for the spectators to always remember. Beauty is emphasized in Edinburgh, with the terminal problem for railroads solved by placing the tracks in a valley below Princess street.

The Rhine territory was a part of their itinerary, also a visit to old Chester, England, Westminster Abbey, rich in history, London Tower, and the memorial Theatre in the Shakespeare country.

In Italy the returning of the soldiers from Ethiopia was a notable experience. When in Venice, the rendering of a magnificent oratorio in St. Marks Square, stands out as a wonderful memory, she said.

Quoting Van Dyke's "America For Me" Miss Tice closed a remarkably interesting travel talk.

Guests were Miss Esther Marshall, of Timewell; Miss Elliott, Miss Emma Doying, Miss Anna McBride, New member—Miss Maxine Wright.

Miss Burbridge announced the committee to work with the Parent-Teacher association, as follows: Mrs. Wilbur Rogers, Miss Rose Ranson, Miss Amelia DeMotte, Mrs. Lillian Danskin, Miss Verna Butcher, Mrs. Anna Rogers.

The supper committee included: Miss Gertrude Atkins, chairman, Miss Mary Clamuff, Miss Verna Butcher.

The next meeting will be on October 15, in charge of the Health and Social Service committee. The supper committee will be: Miss Lorene Dewese, Miss Mary Frances Scott, and Miss Fern Taylor.

SERVE CHICKEN SUPPER

The annual chicken supper was served last night by the Ladies Aid of Northminster Presbyterian church. More than five hundred were present. Mrs. Cal Vieira was chairman of arrangements.

An automobile driven by Clyde McKinney collided with a bicycle ridden by John Baptist at the intersection of Prairie and Court streets yesterday afternoon. Baptist was uninjured in the accident.

Local C. C. C. Camp Gets High Rating

Leads Eleven Camps in Area Following Inspection For September

Each month all conservation camps in the first inspection area of the Jefferson barracks district are inspected by the inspection area commander, Capt. J. Emmett Wilson, Camp Jacksonville, received the highest rating for September in this area comprising eleven CCC camps, and is therefore entitled to display the pennant signifying the honor that has been accorded the local C.C.C. Camp.

This inspection covers all phases of camp activity, including condition of buildings, grounds, clothing and condition of equipment, also the welfare of the enrollees, the relationship with the community, the social, physical, religious and educational participation of the men in the regular camp program. It also covers camp administration activities.

Camp Jacksonville under the leadership of Lieutenant Ernest R. Schwarm, commanding officer; Lieutenant Robert W. Cockrell, Jr., officer; Lieutenant M. Stamler, medical officer; Robert Brown, educational adviser and B. C. Taylor, camp superintendent, during the past three months has shown a steady advance among all C.C.C. Camps in this area and has climbed in that time from sixth to first place.

WESLEY CHAPEL M. S. AT TENDICK HOME

Wesley Chapel W. F. M. S. met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Florence Tendick. Eighteen members and one guest were present. The meeting was opened with a song. Mrs. S. Bracewell was the devotional leader.

The president, Mrs. W. K. Ranson, gave an outline of the lessons for the coming year. Miss Alvira Richardson was the program leader.

The meeting was closed with the benediction. Refreshments and a social hour followed.

It Is So Different Now!

Yes, those were the "Good Old Days." Would you like to have them back? We don't think you would!

Here's one big advantage of living in these "Stirring Times" even though we do a lot of grumbling about this an' that. (But perhaps it's the little grumbling now and then that has made and kept this nation strong, who knows.)

Anyway, in the old days you didn't have the wonderful selection of merchandise; and

You didn't have stores virtually brought into your very home as is the case every day now—morning and night.

How, you ask, is that done?

Through the medium of the business men's illustrated and displayed announcements, telling you so specifically just what they have that you are needing and wanting, and the prices. In this way the stores and the stocks are brought direct to your home every day.

Save time, steps and money by a careful reading of the advertisements every day, in the daily

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

BEGIN HERE TODAY
KAY DUNN, pretty airplane stewardess, falls in love with TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot who flies the trans-Pacific route.

Ted has two interests in life—his job and DICKIE, his adopted son, 7 years old. When Ted asks Kay to marry him, she fears it is merely to make a home for Dickie, but she agrees.

She does not agree, though, with Ted's theories that marriage, to be successful, must be planned scientifically, just as a plane flight. She is rebellious because he insists her housekeeping must be carried on in the same way, with charts and budgets.

Kay gives a party one night and Ted, tired and weary, instead of remaining with the guests, goes to his room. To punish him, Kay impulsively decides to take the morning plane for Honolulu.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XX
MONTE laughed, but his eyes answered Kay's eagerly. There was something restless in his manner as he stood up, looking out over the ocean.

"So you want to fly to Honolulu, do you?" he said. "Sorry, but it's Ralph's turn to make the trip today."

Kay, however, refused to be dissuaded. The impulse to board the plane, to set off on such an utterly mad, reckless flight seemed the answer to all her unhappiness and worries.

"It's your turn, Monte," she said. "Do it for me! We'll lock Ralph in his room and run away to the airport. We can say he was ill and that you'll take his place today."

"Come on," he cried. "Let's go!"

At Ralph's hotel, he left orders that the pilot was not to be disturbed. They hurried off to the airport then—Kay and Monte in high good humor, excited about their proposed adventure. Doris decided that the whole thing was out of her hands.

Kay bought a ticket to Honolulu and Monte reported to the operations division and was assigned Ralph's place in the crew of the Mariner. Almost in no time it was time to leave.

Doris stood at the landing place, tears dimming her eyes, as she watched the great silver ship rise gracefully from the water and disappear in the west. Now that it was too late to call them back, she was terrified to think of what might be before her friends.

KAY, likewise, was worried. After the first hour in the air, the flight seemed much less thrilling. She sat back in her chair, looked out at the water and took stock of the situation. She won-

Favors Roosevelt For Re-election; Announces Reason

New York Daily in Editorial Explains Stand It Takes at This Time

New York — (AP) — The New York Times, in an editorial titled "A Reasonable Choice," today announced its support of President Roosevelt for re-election.

The Times is an Independent Democratic comment, the Republican presidential nominee said:

"My attention has recently been directed to the activities of a number of agencies which, for selfish purposes or political reasons, are endeavoring to exploit prejudice between groups of American citizens."

"I have no use for any elements who are endeavoring to bring racial prejudices and religious bigotries into American life and state frankly that I disclaim the support of any such organizations or groups."

"If ever the day should come in this country that would see persecutions of any racial group or sect because of race or religion, contrary to the bill of rights, I would stand among their defenders."

A critical study of the New Deal's social security act was made public yesterday by Governor Landon who said "this report was made by the Twentieth Century Fund supported by the Filene Foundation."

In New York, Evans Clark, director of the fund, said the material was given Landon "with the express stipulation that it be treated as confidential" and John B. Andrews, chairman of the fund's old age security committee, said the report represented merely the views of the fund staff members who prepared it. Andrews added that the committee had not acted on it.

Governor Landon said the study held the law's attempt to finance old age insurance exclusively through flat payroll and wage taxes was "unsound," putting almost the entire burden on "the earners of the nation."

The report contained this sentence: "In considering the inadequacies of shortcomings of the act full credit should be given to it as a real achievement and as a real foundation on which a satisfactory structure of old age security may eventually be built."

They completed the flight from England in 52 hours and 56 minutes, an average speed of 123 miles an hour. Winner of the $15,000 handicap prize and other awards will not be determined until the remaining fliers arrive and their times are figured.

Scott, winner of the England-Australia air race in 1934 with T. Campbell Black, moved into the van when Capt. S. S. Halse, previous leader, crashed on the last lap.

David Llewellyn, who yesterday made a determined challenge for the lead, has been unreported since flying over Entebbe, Uganda, at 3:15 p. m. local time.

Flying Officer David Llewellyn and C. F. Hugheson, unreported since late yesterday, crashed near Mpulungu, Lake Tanganyika. When they ran out of gas as they tried to find the airdrome at Abercorn, Northern Rhodesia, obscured by smoke from brush fires. They escaped unscathed but their plane was wrecked.

Max Findlay and Ken Waller, next in the race, left Entebbe at 6:41 a. m., and headed for Broken Hill, Northern Rhodesia.

Gibraltar — Funds of the Bank of Spain are being moved from Madrid to Cartagena on the Mediterranean coast, a Fascist radio broadcast from Seville claimed today.

Wilbur Jackson of the Roodhouse community was a Thursday afternoon caller in Jacksonville.

Kay Graham, giving way to foolish, jealous suspicions?

But suddenly the events that had led up to this escapade crystallized, and left her with a clear understanding of what she intended to do.

She knew her own heart now; the escapade, as such, had been over the minute she stepped on the plane.

She would disembark at Honolulu and wait for Ted. She would go to him and explain that it had been only a single night's lark and nothing more. She was sure he would understand this much.

MONTE came back presently and spoke briefly to her. He looked worried. He had lost his devil-may-care manner during the long hours of his watch.

"Ted has ordered me off the plane at Honolulu to await instructions," he told her. "The message came through on the radio just now."

Kay sat up, her eyes wide. "Monte, they won't do anything to you?"

He smiled and saluted with a gesture that was not as jaunty as he intended. "Adventure in the air!" he said.

"Ted didn't say anything about me?" she asked.

"No. Only company messages have come through thus far."

Kay's heart sank. That was Ted, all right! The company meant everything to him. It was the trans-Pacific flight, and she was only his wife.

But she knew now that she owed her loyalty both to Ted and to the air service. She resolved to try to get something on Illah as a spy. Kay was defending her own against the outside world. She was defending what was Ted's, and what belonged to the trans-Pacific flight.

She thought that perhaps Ted had been duped by Illah into giving away the secrets of the gyropilot. That would explain everything—the flirtation, Illah's appearances on the trans-Pacific route, the mystery of her movements.

She didn't know how Ted could have been so easily duped. He had successfully eliminated "the human element" in flying, but was he blind to the danger of people who might want to do him, personally, harm? Perhaps he was a victim of his own elaborate precautions.

Throughout the night she watched Illah closely.

Advance Patrols Move Up

Capital's Resistance Broken, is Claim; Preparing for Final Desperate Engagement of War.

ONLY 20 MILES AWAY

Toledo, Spain — Persistent insurgents pounded a steel spearhead to within 20 miles of Madrid today as Socialist defenders retreated from Ill-escas.

Advance patrols of one of three surging Fascist columns drove struggling government militiamen from the town of Madrid today as Socialist defenders retreated from Ill-escas.

Two additional insurgent divisions marched toward separate objectives. The first, heading from Toledo, pushed toward Aranjuez, "important railway junction to the east and only 26 miles southeast of the capital."

The other moved along the Maqueda-Madrid highway toward Naval-Carnero, 20 miles southwest of Madrid.

"The back of the capital's resistance is broken," asserted Gen. Jose Varela, commander of the southern Fascist forces in the campaign northward.

Insurgent officers, despite the advance which continued after the penetration at Ill-escas, made ready for an expected engagement a short distance north where Socialist troops were reported entrenched in preparation for fierce resistance.

The relentless Fascists reported government planes bombarded the marching columns at many points, including field headquarters at Maqueda. Socialist aim was bad, they declared, reporting no victims from the aerial assault.

Madrid — The governing committee of the Madrid Bar Association, in a protest addressed "to the civilized world," charged today Moorish Legionnaires allied with Fascists had slaughtered thousands of helpless workers and peasants.

Approximately 9,000 were killed in Seville when the Moors hurled grenades into all houses in the working quarter, the Bar Association asserted. The attorneys also said many women had been attacked.

Gibraltar — Funds of the Bank of Spain are being moved from Madrid to Cartagena on the Mediterranean coast, a Fascist radio broadcast from Seville claimed today.

Officers Find Man Accused of Green Car Theft at Waverly

John Thompson, 34 year old former Old Berlin resident, was placed under arrest at Waverly yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Kenneth Woods and Patrolman Howard Stout, Jacksonville officer, after a twelve hour search which took officers through sections of the eastern part of Morgan county and western Sangamon county. Thompson, who officers say is a parolee from the Illinois penitentiary at Chester, is accused of the theft of an automobile early yesterday morning from Merle Green, clerk at the Pacific hotel.

Volunteers Meet At Republican Headquarters Here

Mrs. Helen Grigsby, Pittsfield, Is Speaker At Meeting

It was volunteers who saved the flag in 1861. Mrs. Helen Grigsby of Pittsfield told a group of women at a meeting of the Volunteer movement held Thursday afternoon at Morgan county Republican headquarters. She continued: "Volunteers fought in 1776 for the freedom of the colonies. They served through the War of 1812 and the Mexican War. Again in 1861 they marched out to save the Union. Meanwhile the women were also serving as volunteers, staying at home and working for the men in the field, losing their sons and their husbands in the cause of liberty."

"Today women are again serving as volunteers, this time as truly devoted to saving the flag as ever before. The fight for the American form of government transcends party lines and should interest every true American citizen. In the United States we have liberty. We can hold this meeting this afternoon without fear, but were we in Russia, Italy or Germany and thus opposing the government, we might be lined up against a wall and shot. We don't want such dictatorship in this country."

Mrs. Grigsby, who served two terms as a trustee of the University of Illinois, is leading the Volunteer movement in Pike county. She was accompanied to the meeting here by Mrs. W. A. Foreman of Pittsfield. The session was in charge of Mrs. L. I. Danskin, co-chairman of the movement in this county until the arrival of Miss Ilma Brown, the district chairman, who had charge of the closing period of the meeting.

Zachary Speaks
Oscar Zachary, Republican candidate for state's attorney, was the first speaker on the program. He stressed the point that the coming election is the most important since that of 1860. He said in part:

"We are fighting for the ideal of government our forefathers embodied in the Constitution. We are striving to preserve the American form of government, that has been handed down to us and has served us so well for 149 years. I feel that the President is seeking to establish some sort of social regime, with himself at the head, and if it is not directly his intention, it is at least the aim of his advisers."

Hidden taxes was the theme of Mrs. Danskin, who is the county chairman for that particular phase of the campaign for the Republican women's organization. She pointed out that the government is spending a million dollars an hour, and that the total income of the 32 men who have incomes of more than a million dollars a year would not suffice to meet the immense drain on the national wealth of this vast expenditure.

"When the head of the family dies, there must be 157 kinds of taxes paid before he is finally buried. A man pays 44 kinds of taxes on a $5 pair of shoes. If you ladies buy dresses for $5 each, you pay 47 varieties of tax. If it's a loaf hat you buy, there are 63 taxes. A lot of bread carries 58 taxes, and a ten-cent can of food for your table is plastered with 52 varieties."

Mrs. Andras and Mrs. Langdon of Manchester were introduced as Scott county guests at the meeting. Mrs. Zola Donahoe, the district chairwoman, and Mrs. Dorothy Alexander, county chairwoman, were presented and spoke briefly. Most of the precincts of the county were represented. Refreshments were served.

The committee for the afternoon included Miss Hazel Claus, Miss Mary Fretwell, Miss Helen Strandberg, Miss Ilma Brown, and Mrs. W. G. Goebel.

OBITUARY

Gideon Benjamin Connor was born near Noh, Ill., July 4, 1851. He was the son of John N. and Sophronia Connor, and passed away at his home in Montezuma, Ill., September 22, 1936, at the age of 85 years, two months and 22 days.

He became affiliated with the Christian church at Perry, Ill., in the year 1874, and was united in marriage with Mary Olive Smith February 16, 1876. To this union were born eight children, three of whom preceded their father in death, namely: Nellie, who died in infancy; Maud, wife of W. E. Mann, and Anna, wife of Lon Weaver.

The surviving children include Mrs. Beattie Watson, Lynnville; Mrs. Fern Springer, Winchester; Harry Connor, Emmitt, Idaho; Charlie and Glenn at home. There are also one sister, Mrs. Alice Merris, Mercedora; 20 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Carl Black Speaks At Kiwanis Meet

Tells of First Medical College
In State and Its Influence

The first medical college in Illinois and its influence on Jacksonville was discussed by Dr. Carl E. Black in an interesting address at the Thursday meeting of the local Kiwanis club. The meeting of the club was held at the American Legion home. Next Thursday night the Kiwanians will go to Mercedora where they will have as guests business men of that place. Dr. Black stated that the first medical school in Illinois was established in Jacksonville at Illinois college. The school was organized in 1842 and was not dependent upon the college in any manner for financial support. The college operated for five years when it was discontinued, just why, said Dr. Black, no one knows.

During its existence of five years 26 men were graduated and 88 others went to the school for one year. While this seems to be a small number it was larger than the college student total. The difficulty with which students were confronted in their studies was pointed out by Dr. Black who said the state board of examiners was not formed until 1880, and there was no anatomy law until 1878.

It is Dr. Black's belief that the establishment of the medical school here and the interest of prominent men in this institution had great influence upon the establishment of four state institutions in Jacksonville, three of which are still here. The school also developed Dr. David Prince, who was one of the most outstanding men of Jacksonville. Dr. Prince came to Jacksonville from Payson to head the department of anatomy.

JUDGE TO RULE ON JACKSONVILLE SUIT

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie yesterday took under advisement a Standard Oil company motion for judgment against the Jacksonville Bus Lines company, which is suing for $25,000 for a burned vehicle. A hearing was held and both sides may file briefs.

Last October a bus, trying to avoid another car which had run a stop sign, crashed into a Standard Oil tank at Murrayville. Gasoline from the tank truck was ignited by a near-by bon-fire, burning the bus. The plaintiff claims the bon-fire shouldn't have been on the gas station premises. The defendant charges the plaintiff with trespassing.

Churches Welcome College Students At Thursday Reception

Churches of Jacksonville officially welcomed the students of MacMurray and Illinois colleges last night in city-wide receptions planned especially for them. Committees from the various young people's organizations arranged programs of entertainment, recreation periods and introduced them to the religious life of the church of their choice.

Grace Church
At Grace M. E. the new pastor, Rev. Morgan Williams, made his first contact with more than 150 gathered for the reception there. Charles Scott was chairman of arrangements. The program was carried out on a political theme with nominations, stump tours and the final election as features. Refreshments were served.

State Street Church
State Street Presbyterian church opened the evening "carnival" with a supper at 7 p. m. served by the Ever-ready Ladies class. The student committee included Claire Colton, chairman; Helen Lee Woolsey, Helen Webb, Margaret Spooner, Ruth Margaret Norbury, William Lucas, Ray Gordon, John Robinson and Glen Rodgers.

Fifty-five young persons were present to hear the following program: reading, Rose Marie Mohrdrick; feats of magic, Dr. L. K. Hallock; Melody Maids, accompanied by Louise Driver; group singing led by John Hackett; Dorothy Jean Scott, accompanist. A treasure hunt and a museum of freaks, oddities and curios were also features.

First Baptist
Approximately fifty young people enjoyed the festivities at the First Baptist church which included games, a program of entertainment and a refreshment course. Favors were given to the guests. The committee included Lee Anna Clemens, chairman; Eleanor Shaw, Harry Story and Ruth Simmons. Young people of Brooklyn M. E. church met to organize the Epworth League group for the fall, followed by a pot-luck supper and social time.

Central Christian
Two hundred enjoyed the program at Central Christian church in charge of Miss Peggy Sullivan. It was as follows: reading, Betty Donovan; bass solo, Elbert Edick; violin solo, Billy Sullivan; trio, Melody Maids; accordion solo, Peggy Sullivan. Miss Mildred Rexroat was chairman of the reception committee. James Five in charge of recreation and Ruth Moxon, chairman of the refreshment committee.

Dr. Myron L. Pontius extended the greetings of the church to the group. Robert Williams, Illinois college, responded.

Trinity Episcopal
Trinity Episcopal was host to a group of young people enjoying informal games and a refreshment course. Rev. Stoddard Patterson was in charge and announced that the Young People's Guild would meet each Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Richards entertained the young people of the Congregational church at their home. Games and contests were enjoyed, with refreshments served at the close of the evening.

Centenary Church
Centenary Methodist held their student reception in the church parlors. The receiving line included Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Metcalf, Miss Alexander, Miss Mahany, Rev. and Mrs. McKendree M. Blair. Entertainment included games and contests. Refreshments were served.

Westminster Church
Forty college students attended the reception given at Westminster church last night. The church parlors were attractively decorated with fall flowers and the evening was spent in games and music. A violin solo was given by Miss Ada.

To Appear Here Tonight

DON COSSACK CHORUS MEMBERS.

Twelve Students Of High School On State H.S. Chorus

Local Musicians to Take Part
At Annual Affair In Champaign

Twelve Jacksonville High School students, the largest number in many years, have been accepted for membership in the all-state high school chorus which will meet in Champaign, November 4-6. The chorus is an annual affair and each year J. H. S. is represented by several singers. It has been many seasons, however, since a delegation of twelve has gone from this city, although Jacksonville High School always has one of the largest groups in proportion to its size.

The twelve who will go to the University city in November are Catherine Allan, first soprano; Betty Traub, Genevieve Rawlings, and Carol McClelland, second soprano; Barbara Butler, first alto; Dwight Hopper and Curtis Engleman, first tenors; Bill Green and Joe Baazie, first basses; and Warren Rimbey, Harold Little, and Rowe Samuel, second basses.

All of this group are seniors and have an outstanding record as members of the Treble Clef or Boys Glee Club of the school. All of the boys' applications that were sent in from here were accepted.

Another special item of interest concerning the state chorus this year is that Miss Lena Mae Hopper, music supervisor of the Jacksonville public schools and director of the two above mentioned clubs, will serve on the state chorus committee this year.

This is a great honor, as the committee is composed of only three persons. Ralph Holmes, the director, and Miss Velma Kitchell, the accompanist, serve every year. Each year they select one music supervisor from the entire state to serve with them on the committee. Miss Hopper's appointment comes in recognition of the outstanding success of her music clubs and of her wide reputation throughout the state as a choral director. She has placed Jacksonville High School definitely on the map in Illinois club work by consistently taking a fine group to the state chorus. The local delegation is always among the largest, which speaks for the quality of work done by Miss Hopper in her direction.

The chorus this year will be held in the new gym and will be larger than ever before. Several songs will have to be memorized by the young singers for the event. These songs will be received at the high school here during the next few days and will be committed to memory by the time for the chorus.

Committee chairmen included: Games, Rose Marie Mohrdrick; reception, Emily Rawlings; invitations, Ella McKinney; refreshments, Mrs. J. H. Russell; music, Clarence Massey; decorations, Miss Mable Goitra.

Elizabeth Mills Passes Away At Home Thursday

Death of Pisgah Resident
Follows Illness Of One Week

Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, wife of Samuel Mills, passed away at her home in the Pisgah community yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mills' death followed an illness of one week. She was born in Morgan county, July 18, 1865, the daughter of Robert and Lucinda Litter Deaton. She was married to Mr. Mills March 1, 1883.

Mr. Mills and five children: Mrs. Della Baker, Rees; Edgar Mills, Pisgah; Mrs. Anna Oxley, Clements; Lawrence Mills, Franklin, and Mrs. Irene Baker, Jacksonville, survive. There are also 13 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. Three brothers, William Deaton of Litterberry; and Edward and Robert Deaton of Jacksonville survive.

She was a member of the Durbin M. E. church.

The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home, where funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Ebenezer cemetery.

Walter Lash Hurt In Auto Accident

Suffers Cuts, Broken Nose
In Wreck That Occurred In County Thursday

Walter Lash, age 20 years, a resident of the McCarty neighborhood near Franklin, was seriously injured yesterday when the automobile in which he was riding left the highway and overturned. The accident occurred as Lash was en route to work on a farm in his neighborhood.

He was removed to Passavant hospital, where medical attendance was given by Dr. F. A. Norris. Lash is suffering from cuts on his face, a fractured nose and other injuries. He will remain at the hospital several days.

STACE CALVIN WEDS MRS. MARY LARGE

Mrs. Mary Large became the bride of Stace Calvin in a ceremony solemnized by Rev. M. L. Pontius at his residence on West College avenue last night at 8:30 o'clock. Both are residents of this city.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Calvin and Eleanor Large. Mr. Calvin operates a grocery store here and the newlyweds will be at home to their friends at 459 Hardin avenue after October 10.

FRANKLIN SOCIETY AT WYNN HOME

Franklin, Ill., Oct. 1.—The Missionary society of the Christian church met with Mrs. John Wynn this afternoon. The following program was given under the direction of Miss Anna Bateman, who had for her subject, "Negro and Education."

Suggestion to Remove Three R. R. Crossings Is Heard By Council

A suggestion that at least three railroad crossings along the Wabash right-of-way through the city be eliminated, was brought to the regular meeting of the city council last night by City Engineer Kenneth Stapleton, but the council turned a deaf ear to the proposal until the Wabash railroad submits more definite plans for proposed crossing repairs before beginning work here.

The council also discussed the resurfacing project for the square, gave the city engineer instructions to establish safety islands at each of the places where well travelled streets enter the square, and agreed to permit the Illinois Power and light company to make repairs to its service connections without a charge for breaking through the brick surface along with a mass of other detail work.

The city engineer, in reporting on a conference with the engineers of the Wabash railroad and representatives of the Commerce Commission, said that the railroad company wanted to eliminate the crossings at Finley, Bedwell and North Sandy streets. The council, however, took no action on the suggestion and did not plan to take any until the railroad company submits plans for proposed improvements to other crossings.

Indications were that there would be considerable objection to closing Finley street. The railroad company officials, after a tour here recently, proposed to widen the Webster street crossing from 12 to 24 feet, the Sandusky street crossing from 18 to 24 feet, and North Pine street from 12 to 24 feet. No decision was reached as to how North Clay and North East streets would be repaired, but the company said it would plan these improvements after the council had determined what could be done about closing the other crossings.

Repair N. Main St.
The railroad company also proposes to repair North Main street by making an all asphalt crossing there. All of the crossings which need repairs are to get them, according to the city engineer's report.

The council authorized the removal of the signal light posts on the square, and authorized the city engineer to install a new type of safety island. The city engineer told the council that he did not know when resurfacing operations will begin, but that the asphalt machine already has been installed.

The council also authorized the city clerk to waive all charges for making openings in the square pavement for installing new services, if the Illinois Power and Light company will keep its force of workers ahead of the resurfacing gang, and also will fill the holes it makes according to state specifications. The Power company is said to have ordered a large amount of material to take care of these services in order to have them in good shape before the new surface is put on the square.

Alderman W. H. Cocking announced that the WPA is looking for more projects, and his announcement drew from Alderman George Brown a query as to the progress of the proposed swimming pool for the colored people at the Widenham-Daub well site. The city engineer again took the floor to tell the council that nothing had been done because he had been informed that the colored people did not want a pool located on this site.

The council also voted to increase the amount of workmen's compensation being paid to L. Wiant who was injured when a road disc fell on him, from $21.75 to $24 each two weeks. The council also authorized the city clerk to issue a draft to cover the amount due Wiant as back compensation. Mr. Wiant is said to be in much better condition, but is still wearing a cast on his back.

Special Counsel O. N. Foreman presented a request that the council authorize vouchers totalling $510 to cover the costs of appealing the suit of the Banker's Life Insurance company to the court of appeals, and the council granted the request. "The special attorney said that the amount was necessary for fees required to file documents. He said that the expenses amounted to a little over $60 for compiling a record of the circuit court proceedings, a $25 filing fee, and $425 for printing the briefs in the case for submission to the appellate court judges. The Banker's Life suit is an outgrowth of the failure of the Avera National bank, in which some of the special assessment funds of the city were lost."

Sam Waddell addressed the council briefly regarding eight hogs he is keeping in the city limits and asked that he be allowed to keep them until next spring. The matter was turned over to the health committee.

GOP Candidates Here This Evening

Hatzenbuehler, Buck At Meeting; Lyons To Make Address

Two Republican state candidates, Representative Richard J. Lyons and Harry C. Montgomery candidate for congress, 20th district, are on the program for the meeting scheduled to be held here this evening. The state candidates are George Hatzenbuehler, nominee for lieutenant governor, and Clarence F. Buck, candidate for state treasurer.

The meeting will be held at the court house at 8 o'clock, and will conclude the downstate tour of this group which began Monday at Litchfield. Prior to their appearance here the candidates will hold meetings at Petersburg, Mason City, Havana and Virginia today.

Meda S. Andras was in the city yesterday from Manchester.

Seventy Workers Are Told $1,000 Pledged to YMCA

Campaign for Funds Started
At Dinner Meeting Here Wednesday

With more than seventy workers present and announcement of nearly $1,000 already pledged, the local Y. M. C. A. last night launched its campaign for funds to carry on the work of the coming year. The opening dinner meeting was held at the Dunlap hotel in the banquet room. The principal speakers were Dr. Grover Smith, president of the Alton Y. M. C. A. and Attorney Gibson Brown of Alton, both of whom gave inspirational talks.

Rev. W. C. Meeker gave the invocation. The local president, Dr. Ellisworth Black, made the opening remarks. He stressed the fact that the fund needed is for three purposes: to carry on the actual program, to pay on a deficit incurred in previous years, and to repair the present quarters of the "Y." It is hoped also to raise sufficient money to provide a paid leader for women and girls during the coming year.

Dr. Black next introduced Dr. H. C. Jaquith, the 1935 campaign chairman, who emphasized the fact that community effort is always worth while, and then turned the meeting over to Dr. C. P. McClelland, the present campaign chairman.

Dr. Grover Smith of Alton was next introduced. He said that never in the course of campaigns in his own city had there been such a turnout of workers as he saw present. Yet the work has been successful. Large gifts have been increased and today Alton is seeking a new site and a $600,000 building as a future goal.

Building Character
Gibson Brown, the next speaker, declared that the Y. M. C. A., through its numerous activities, is building the character of those it reaches as is no other organization outside the church. He pointed to the fact that the C in the name still stands for Christian, and is as vital as ever.

Earl M. Spink, chairman of the special gifts committee, spoke of the challenge of the campaign. He said members of the local board of directors have increased their own subscriptions. Already nearly a thousand dollars is pledged. A. D. Hermann, the local secretary, next presented some facts about the Y. M. C. A. He stated that during the past year 1,500 different individuals have participated in the various activities. There have been more than 500 group meetings, and some 500 athletic games. The athletic program has been carried on successfully, even without a building, but school gymnasiums have been used for the winter sports.

Mr. Hermann said that a new building is a future goal. The Y. M. C. A. has been organized here 68 years, and it is hoped on the seventieth anniversary to dedicate a new building.

J. A. Goodall, the campaign organizer, next presented the plan of the drive. Workers were supplied with their kits and selected their prospect cards from the racks about the walls. The club subscription plan is being tried this year, and it is hoped to secure many who will join the $1, $2 or $3 a month clubs. The first report meeting of the campaign will be held next Monday noon.
